Convicted Ex-M.P. Linked With Red Spy Ring In U.S.

NEW YORK (AP) — The World-Telegram says today in a copyrighted story that Russian espionage rings operated so secretly and guardedly in the United States during the Second World War that they weren't told that other spying syndicates existed here.

They generally learned of the other rings only when one of their operatives accidentally stumbled across the agents of another Russian ring, the paper says.

That was how the good-looking, blonde spy ring leader, whose confession to the Federal Bureau of Investigation sparked Tuesday's indictment and arrest of the top American Communist, discovered she was not the only Soviet secret agent in this country, the World-Telegram adds.

It says additional proof that one Russian spy agency didn't know that another existed was found in a peculiar situation which developed between the blonde spy and Fred Rose, then Labor Progressive Member of the Canadian Parliament, later convicted of espionage.

Rose, now serving a prison term for his part in the Canadian espionage case, met the blonde on a trip to New York in 1943, the World-Telegram says. When he returned to Canada, he sent messages urging her to come to work for him in that country.

Obviously, he was not aware that she had her own spy ring and that she didn't know he was an espionage leader until he was arrested. The entire spy set-up was so arranged that few of the agents knew the identity of their leaders or co-workers.

Boy 11, Admits Murder Of Woman In Hold-Up

MARTINEZ, Calif. (AP) — "I saw other kids with money and I didn't see why I shouldn't have some, too."

That, Sheriff James N. Long said today, was the reason 11-year-old Thomas Edwin Harrington gave for shooting to death Mrs. Daisy Ebling Wednesday. But, frightened, he took no money.

Wakefield Taylor, deputy district attorney, said Tommy made a statement admitting the shooting. He said he would charge the boy with first degree murder. The maximum penalty is life imprisonment because of his age.

Tommy is one of nine children of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Harrington, who came to California from McAlester, Okla., three years ago.

Mrs. Ebling, 42, was killed when she answered a knock at the rear of her grocery store in nearby Mountain View.

The sheriff quoted the boy: "She was a very nice woman. She used to give me comic books and soda pop."

As Mrs. Ebling answered his knock, Tommy said, "stick 'em up." This is a holdup.

She said: "Oh, that doesn't fool me. I know who you are!"

Mrs. Ebling was shot then, with a .22 calibre rifle.

"I wanted money to go to a boys' camp," Tommy's statement explained.

England Piling Up Huge Score In 4th Game With Aussies

LEEDS, England (Reuter) — England today scored 268 runs for the loss of two wickets in the first day's play of the fourth test cricket match against Australia.

Len Hutton and Cyril Washbrook put on a superb batting display to open England's first innings. They ran the home eleven's score to 168 for the first wicket.

By the tea interval, England's first-innings one-wicket total was 133.

Colorful 12th Annual All-Sooke Day Festivities Attract Thousands

Baby Contest, Loggers Sports Among Most Popular Features

People from all over Vancouver Island thronged to the Sooke River flats Wednesday to attend the 12th annual All-Sooke Day. They watched loggers' sports and races, tried their luck at wheel games and the "Sooke Gold Rush" and ate their fill of tantalizing clam chowder, barbecued beef and barbecued salmon.

Officials estimated the crowd at between 7,000 and 8,000.

Diane Zelenko, 16-months-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Zelenko, Sooke, was judged the best child of the show in the Daily Times rural baby contest.

The pretty blonde winner took honors over approximately 100 entrants. Mr. Zelenko drives a taxi at Sooke.

Award for the best all-Sooke baby went to Sue Elizabeth Spicer, seven-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Spicer, Sooke.

In the under-six-months' class, Elizabeth Mary Bickford, five months old, won first prize. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bickford of the Saseenos gas station.

TON OF SALMON

A ton of salmon, donated by J. H. Todd and Sons, sizzled alongside two 20-foot trenches of burning logs, while nearby in a charcoal pit 12 feet long, five feet wide and four feet deep, 414 pounds of tasty beef was barbecued.

Frank Rumsby, in charge of the beef pit, did not recommend his methods for household use, however. He said that logs were burnt in the pit for 17 hours, then the meat, wrapped in parchment and cup-shaped to hold the juice, was buried in the embers for another 12 hours. Altogether, about 14 cords of alder was used, according to Mr. Rumsby.

The results needed no elaboration to anyone who tasted the tender beef.

The usual parade of lost youngsters kept the sound truck operator busy. Things appeared particularly unhappy at one stage when the public address system boomed out a vaguely hopeful message: "We have a small boy crying here. He is lost and doesn't know his name."

This was followed by a general description which would fit several hundred small boys in the vicinity.

Loggers' sports were run off for five hours as spectators in the newly-constructed grandstand and those seated and standing around a roped-off rectangle cheered the tanned woodsmen on.

THRILLING EVENT

Easily the most thrilling event of the day was the high riggers' climb. Contestants scaled a 77-foot spar tree, rang a cowbell at the top and descended.

A new record for the climb at All-Sooke Day was established by Jerry P. Pappenberger, Beaver Point, Salt Spring Island, who bettered his winning time of last year by performing the difficult scaling task in 41 seconds.

Runner-up was G. Cox of Sooke Logging Company who was clocked at 50 seconds even. Third place went to Ted Shearing, with a time of 51 seconds.

DOUBLE WINNER

Charlie Murray, husky logger from North Wellington, was the only double winner, taking first place in the log bucking and the tree chopping events.

Murray, who won the B.C. log bucking title at Duncan July 1, sawed through a 29-inch log in two minutes 17 and one-fifth seconds. Working from a single springboard hole and chopping both left and right-handed, he chopped down an 18-inch tree in 4:45.3 to achieve his second victory.

In the log bucking contest, Ladysmith's Hugh McKenzie was second with a time of 2:39.

Runners-up in the tree chopping grind were Alan Woodrow, Courtenay, and Phil Whittaker, Duncan.

Log bucking with power saw, a new event this year, attracted much attention. Showing good teamwork as they sawed the motor-driven chain blade through a 34-inch piece of timber, Ray Cote and Henry Bill of Nanaimo took top honors with a time of 43 seconds.

Winners in other logging contests were Alan Woodrow square timber chopping, and Bill Hannahee, Duncan, log rolling.

The ladies provided plenty of excitement and entertainment in the nail-driving contest. Mrs. A. Corfield, Jordan River, proved the best of seven entrants attempting to drive five six-inch spikes into a piece of timber.

CITY POLICE WIN

Always a highlight of All-Sooke Day, the tug-o-war this year proved no exception. Sgt. Tommy Banister's stalwarts of the City of Victoria City police force were forced to pull three times before defeating the Sooke Timber Wolves.

The bobbies took the first heat with ease on the downward slope, but the Sooke heavies made a real comeback in the second heat to win after a three-minute heave. In the deciding heat, the police gave a series of sustained pulls to win in 10 seconds.

The official opening of All-Sooke Day was made by Cmdr. C. T. Beard, M.L.A. for Esquimalt. Festivities concluded with a dance in the evening.

Grim determination is written on the faces of contestants in the women's nail-driving event. Winner was Mrs. A. Corfield, Jordan River.

Thousands watch popular loggers' sports. People on far side are seated in a new grandstand constructed this year by the Sooke Community Association.

Sgt. Tommy Banister spurs his Victoria police tug o' war team on to victory over Sooke Timber Wolves in third of best of three pulls.

Cowichan Group Plans Sports Day

LAKE COWICHAN — The sports committee for United Organizations held a meeting this week to make final arrangements for Lake Cowichan's annual Labor Day sports and carnival.

Starting in the morning with a parade, the day will end with a dance at the community hall.

As a preliminary, the Kinsmen of Lake Cowichan, will hold a dance.

Softball league finals will be played early.

The program will feature presentation of the Lady of the Lake, when votes decide who will hold that honor from three girls representing the three districts; Miss Jean Telfer, Lake Cowichan; Marjorie Turner, Honeymoon Bay and Mesachie Lake, and Dolores Langhammer, Youbou.

There will be swimming sports, loggers' events, nail driving, running, jumping, tug-of-war and a four-mile road race. The event which attracts riders from the mainland and island points will be the bicycle race along the Cowichan Lake Road, from Paldi.

All organizations are taking their share in the day, each arranging and sponsoring different events.

Charlie Murray, North Wellington, is shown chopping his way to victory in the tree-chopping event. He also took top honors in log-bucking to become only double winner of the day.

These healthy youngsters were prize-winners in the Daily Times baby contest. Left, Mrs. Henry Spicer, Sooke, with Sue Elizabeth, seven months old, judged best All-Sooke baby. At right is five-month-old Elizabeth Mary Bickford, winner of the under six-month class, with her mother, Mrs. W. E. Bickford, Saseenos.

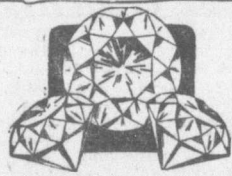

Awaiting judges' decision in the Daily Times rural baby contest are some of the hundred entrants. Note contrasting expressions of anxiety and happiness on faces of mothers.

Colts Beat Spencers In Cricket Match

Sparked by Owen Morgan who retired after knocking up 54 runs, Oak Bay Colts scored their third victory in four starts over Spencers in the midweek cricket series yesterday, 123 to 95.

Rowe with 28, Paterson with 18 and Colquhoun with 13 batted well for Colts.

'Gideon's Army' In Parley Scores U.S. 'Imperialism'

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Gideon's army is here, shivering lances and slaughtering dragons amid a strange quiet.

It is in convention beneath the portrait of Henry Wallace who first gave it that name. But so far there is almost nothing to indicate that another convention, the third within a month, has opened in Philadelphia. There are no crowds on the sidewalks, and no traffic jams on the fine wide streets or in the hotel lobbies.

Even at Convention Hall, where the New Party platform committee is at work, there are more newspaper men and policemen than spectators, although the hearings are open to the public.

All this contrasts sharply with the clatter and clang of the warriors appearing before the platform committee.

They have attacked "American imperialism" and "Colonialism." They also ran full-tilt against France, Spain, partitioned Ireland, embattled Indonesia, and the situation in Armenia, the Ukraine, Hawaii, and the continent of Africa. Neither Russia nor the present situation in Berlin was mentioned.

Our policy is to exploit and colonize the weak people. We no longer stand for liberty and freedom—just the reverse.

(See story "Democratic Action," Page 10).

To End Jaywalking

RICHLAND, Wash. (AP)—Officials in this atomic energy town have placed a bounty on every jay-walker "shot" outside the safety crossings.

It isn't as bloody as it sounds. To combat jay-walking, amateur photographers are paid $1 for every picture they turn in of a resident caught outside the crossing lanes.

The photographer gets his dollar and the offender finds his picture in the local paper.

Victoria Girl In Thrilling Rescue

Dolores Dash, 15, 2339 Dunlevy Street, is shown being carried down a mountain near Jervis Inlet, 85 miles from North Vancouver, by rescuers after spending 32 hours marooned on a ledge. She had fallen 50 feet and broken her leg while trying to jump from one ledge to another while 2,000 feet up on 6,100-foot Marlborough Heights Mountain. (Photo by Bill Cunningham, Vancouver.)

FRENCHMAN'S BAYOL, Ark. (AP)—Six persons were killed in the collision of a transport truck and a van Wednesday. Nineteen other were injured. All were cotton workers from Memphis.

NEW YORK (AP)—Newsweek Magazine said Tuesday Gen. Carl Spaatz, retired U.S. Air Force chief of staff, will join its editorial board Aug. 1. He will serve as air and military consultant and contributing editor.

116,000 Ford Workers Accept 13c Pay Boost

DETROIT (UP)—A 13-cent-an-hour wage increase for 116,000 production workers today erased a country-wide strike threat against the Ford Motor Company.

Climaxing more than 21 hours of nearly continuous negotiations, the United Automobile Workers (C.I.O.), also won increases in premium pay, vacation improvements, and a group insurance plan revision.

The union estimated these "fringe" benefits would total an additional 3½ to 4 cents an hour.

The U.A.W.-C.I.O. also estimated the annual increased cost to Ford of the new contract at $32,000,000. The firm made no estimate.

Details of the revised contract, set to expire July 15, 1949, were revealed jointly by the union and the company.

ALL HAVE AGREEMENTS

Ford's agreement with the U.A.W.-C.I.O. was the last among the auto industry's "Big Three." It set a peaceful stage for the major producers of the United States to maintain high production at least until the summer of 1949.

Vice-President John S. Bugas of the Ford Company said the new agreement included the same wage offer that the union turned down a week ago, "plus a few additional fringe adjustments worked out in our negotiating sessions."

The 13-cent-an-hour increase brings the Ford average hourly production wage rate to between $1.65 and $1.66.

Dog Tracks Thief

REGINA (CP)—Tracked down by an R.C.M.P. dog after an all-night search, 30-year-old Roy Morgan of Vancouver, was sentenced today to eight months hard labor in Regina jail. He was apprehended early this morning and pleaded guilty to breaking into a farm home at Craven, Sask., 25 miles northwest of here.

New York's Transit Services Flooded

NEW YORK (AP)—Transportation facilities were back in normal operation today after a heavy downpour late Wednesday night which flooded city subway lines, stalled buses and halted trolleys.

Board of Transportation officials said the rainstorm hit transit services harder than any downpour in several years. About three inches of water fell in two hours and 15 minutes.

Four sections of subway lines were blocked, two of them for several hours, by flood conditions. Hundreds of automobiles and some buses were stalled.

Weather

Weather synopsis and official forecast issued 9 a.m. by the Dominion public weather office at Vancouver valid until midnight Friday, July 23.

Flood Causes $500,000 Loss; Families Flee; No Deaths

LANCASTER, O. (AP)—A flash flood in the west side of this central Ohio city early today menaced some 2,000 homes and caused damage estimated tentatively at $500,000. No casualties were reported.

Scores of families left their homes by boat as water overflowed the banks of Hunters' Run, a creek which empties into the Hocking River, after heavy rains.

The damage estimate was made by Kenneth Kerr, Red Cross disaster chairman in this city of 20,000.

Most of the west side residents were caught unaware of the flood and were unable to get out without assistance. Fellow townsmen used small river craft to evacuate them.

One lumber company was partially washed out and a builders' supply company reported heavy damage. About 100 automobiles were covered by water between seven and eight feet deep in some places.

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad said several sections of track were washed out. A highway was blocked when a cement bridge was destroyed by the high water.

New Dental Chief

OTTAWA (CP)—Dr. H. K. Brown of Ottawa, formerly of Edmonton, has been promoted to head the dental health division, Health and Welfare Department, Health Minister Martin announced today. Dr. Brown has been acting chief of the division since the resignation last year of Dr. L. V. Jones.

Prior to coming to Ottawa Dr. Brown practiced dentistry in Barrhead, Alta., Lethbridge and Edmonton. He is a graduate of the University of Alberta.

MOSCOW SHOULD TAKE HEED

WHAT HAS BEEN SAID BY SEVERAL British and American spokesmen about the ticklish situation in Berlin was repeated yesterday by United States Secretary of State Marshall. This able soldier-statesman did not mince matters. Speaking for his own country, he said: "We will not be coerced or intimidated in any way in our procedures under the rights and responsibilities we have in Berlin and generally in Germany." By way of qualification, however, he made it quite clear that he was heartily in favor of a procedure that would invoke every possible resource of negotiation and diplomatic custom calculated to produce an acceptable solution of the present problems and to avoid the tragedy of another global conflict.

It would be a waste of words and space to point out that nobody in his or her right senses wants or intends to do anything or say anything likely to start another conflagration. In the Old World, in Eurasia, and in the Orient, there still remains too much evidence of the horror of the blood-bath which began in the summer of 1939 to encourage dangerous international boat-rocking. But the fact remains that so long as the men in charge at the Kremlin continue to obstruct practically every sensible western effort to ameliorate conditions which contain the explosive material provocative of war, it becomes increasingly difficult for the freedom-loving peoples of the world to impress a "few wilful men" in Moscow with their desire for a lasting peace under law. Prime Minister Stalin and his colleagues of the Politburo cannot escape this charge. They persistently talk about their type of democracy and its intention to promote peace; but practically every action they take, and nearly every sentiment to which their regimented newspapers give editorial expression, smack of a desire to follow up political expansion with armed force. This is not the way for Russia to fulfill the obligations into which she entered when her representatives signed the Charter of the United Nations in San Francisco three years ago last month.

Those in charge of the affairs of the Soviet Union, interdependent as the conduct of those affairs are with the welfare of the rest of the world, would be serving their own best interests and those of their country were they to heed very carefully the plain words to which Secretary of State Marshall gave voice at his press conference in Washington yesterday. It will not do for them to call the soldier-diplomat's statement silly names. They know, or should know, that General Marshall is implacable in his resolve when he says that war must not come. But he does not propose to be "pushed around" himself or to allow the great nation for which he speaks to be so treated.

RATTLING THE SABRE

PRESTIGE AND "FACE" HOLDING THE place they do in international diplomatic manoeuvres it was not unexpected that the Russian display of strength in the Berlin dispute—namely, the exhibition of their power to cut off all land communications at will—should have been followed by a similar showing of potential force by the western allies. The air lift, involving up to 500 flights a day, which was organized to deliver food to the former German capital, was in itself a demonstration of emergency transport the military implications of which cannot have been lost on those whose duty it is to observe such developments. And now there are to be further exhibitions of aerial might to impress not only the people of Europe, who in a sense are pawns in the diplomatic game, but also the leaders of the opposing side whose chief respect appears to be reserved for armed strength and determination.

The arrival in Scotland of 16 American jet fighters, marking the first west-to-east Atlantic crossing of this type of plane—the opposite journey was performed a few days ago by R.A.F. jets—will be followed early in August by the visit of nearly 70 Shooting Star jet fighters aboard a carrier. The planes will then fly to Germany to reinforce the American Air Force. Meanwhile, 60 United States Superfortress bombers are visiting Britain, and will make a number of stops on the continent in the course of their "training mission." Britain, for her part, will stage large-scale R.A.F. exercises in the south of England next week-end, with about 100 aircraft, half of them jet fighters, taking part. In addition, more than 3,000 members of the wartime air raid observation corps will man their posts for a practical test.

The object obviously is to show the men of the Kremlin that the "decadent democracies" still maintain a powerful arsenal for offence or defence, quite apart from their possession of the atomic bomb. It is to be hoped that such a demonstration of force may help to tone down Russian belligerency in regard to the Berlin crisis, and restore the more hot-headed proponents of Communist expansion to a practical appraisal of the risks they are running.

A NEW PREMIER

EUROPE'S SITUATION TODAY IS NOT one in which France should be left even temporarily without a stable government. The Berlin problem and its influence on the future of Germany, the effective working of the Western Union, the success of E.R.P., the balancing of power in the East-West struggle—all provide cogent reasons for a strong French administration that will continue the general policies developed under M. Robert Schuman. What goes on in France today—as in any other leading country in the world—is of more than domestic significance. Although we have not yet achieved "one world" in the sense of co-ordinated effort for progress, we have certainly attained it in the sense that all nations are so closely allied that what happens within the borders of one has repercussions of varying degrees in all the others.

M. Schuman survived a number of stiff tests before he went under. The troubled financial situation in France, the ever-present threat of Communist-inspired strikes, the rehabilitation program, the black market, and other serious problems are still present to tax the abilities of M. Andre Marie to the utmost. A Radical Socialist, indicating generally Conservative tendencies, his first task will be to form a cabinet from the numerous and strongly partisan groups forming the General Assembly. Sincere hopes for his success will not be confined to his own country. M. Marie's work is of global significance.

GROMYKO'S FAREWELL

WHEN HE LEFT NEW YORK ABOARD the Gripsholm the other day, Mr. Andrei A. Gromyko, Russia's Deputy Foreign Minister, said he was "glad to leave." After that categorical statement, however, he was asked by one of the newspapermen if attendance whether he would be coming back. He answered: "I hope not."

Those of us who have seen Mr. Gromyko in action at Hunter College and Lake Success might be tempted to suggest that the cause of peace and progress as advocated and argued at meetings of the Security Council will not suffer in the least if this particular spokesman for the Kremlin remains indefinitely in Moscow.

This is not to imply that Comrade Andrei has learned nothing of the ways of democracy during his relatively long sojourn in the United States—particularly through his rubbing of shoulders with men and women who understand what freedom means—or that as he continues his career as one of Prime Minister Stalin's favorites he will not try to marry some of the new philosophy of liberty of thought and action to the system of regimentation to which he is returning. Gromyko is no fool. To keep his job, of course, he must toe the Marxist line or run the risk of "liquidation."

The point that occurs to us as Mr. Gromyko returns to Moscow, nevertheless, is that he may feel like telling the editors of Pravda and Izvestia that when they talk about the warmongering imperialists of the United States they are simply talking through their editorial hats. But dare Comrade Andrei be so frank and truthful? We doubt it.

PERHAPS THEY DO

FOLLOWERS OF TENNIS IN THIS community have long been impressed by the fact that the "old guard" continues to win most of the laurels in open competition. The development of juniors, though claiming more attention now than heretofore, has not yet reached a point where the Victoria product furnishes a serious challenge to the representatives of Pacific Coast states.

Why this condition should exist is something of a mystery. Victoria has a climate which furnishes a potentially long tennis season. It should be productive of more impressive results than have been attained in recent years. The interest of the young people now, however, is encouraging. Eighty-nine school children have petitioned the city to construct more courts where they may obtain the practice required to develop stars. Their attitude deserves support.

We do think, however, that the petitioners might have phrased their presentation in happier terms. It starts: "We all want to play very badly. . . ." Perhaps that is what they are doing. Maybe more courts would persuade them that they all "want to play very well."

MILK PRICE COMPARISON

AT A QUICK GLANCE, THE PRICES OF milk in coast cities and those in Victoria provide an interesting comparison. For instance, in Portland, a quart is delivered for 19 cents; in Bremerton, Seattle, and Los Angeles, for 20 cents; and in San Francisco, for 20½ cents. Placed on the doorstep in this city, it costs 19 cents for standard grades. But the picture those figures present is merely the product of a quick glance, nothing more.

An American quart is roughly four-fifths of a Canadian (Imperial) quart. That colors the image. On the basis of a true comparison, Portland would pay 22.8 cents for a quart (Canadian measure), Bremerton, Seattle and Los Angeles 24 cents, and San Francisco 24.4 cents.

The Vancouver, B.C. price, is admittedly lower, 17 cents. But while Victoria continues to import a large quantity from the farming lands adjacent to Vancouver, the price here will in all probability be higher. And what would the people of Great Britain and other European lands give for a quart of milk any day in the week?

Walter Lippmann

BERLIN

BEFORE the United States replies to the Soviet note about the Berlin blockade she should see to it that there is time for thoroughgoing consultation and full consideration among the western powers. The immediate thing to do, it seems to me, is to take measures designed to avoid collisions, crashes, and deaths in the air corridors to Berlin. For that could make the conflict, which is already so grave and so dangerous, altogether unmanageable and irreparable.

THE BEST CHANCE of avoiding the irreparable incident which would precipitate war would lie, first, in an Allied decision to make a carefully considered reply to the arguments and the proposals which the Soviet Union has advanced, and—then—in advising the Russians through diplomatic channels that since a considered reply will take time to formulate, they will do well to instruct their air force commanders in Berlin to be cautious.

This diplomatic action will provide a better test of Russia's intentions than would a spectacular attempt to pierce the blockade by running an armed convoy into Berlin. For the Russians have said that they want to negotiate. If they mean it, they will readily agree to what would be in effect a "hold fire" agreement for the air corridors.

THERE ARE MANY who will object to such a course of action because they are under the impression that the Allied notes were an ultimatum, that the blockade must therefore be lifted unconditionally before there can be any negotiation, and that anything else is a retreat and appeasement.

But the plain fact is that the three western notes about Berlin were not an ultimatum. The French note said expressly that the French government "will make no appeal to force as a means of resolving the differences that may exist between the Soviet government and itself on any point in the Berlin situation." Now when a government, after making a demand on another government, says that it will make no appeal to force, it is saying that it wishes to negotiate.

THE BRITISH and U.S. notes did not contain this explicit renunciation of a willingness to resort to force in order to compel compliance. But the French note must have had the assent of Mr. Bevin and Mr. Marshall. And when three powers unite in a diplomatic action, they must be supposed to mean the same thing.

Moreover, it is now reasonably certain that the British government did not regard its note as an ultimatum, as a demand, this is to say, that the blockade be lifted unconditionally and without negotiation. The diplomatic correspondent of the London Times, who usually expresses the official British view, said on July 15 that "if the Russians should propose talks covering a wider range than local disputes in Berlin, there is nothing in the British note to preclude these."

THEREFORE, since we have not yet delivered an ultimatum, we are not yet stopped by pride, prestige and honor from looking for a negotiated settlement, we are not yet committed to enforce an unconditional compliance.

Apparently it is, however, the views of the American military authorities in Berlin that the Rubicon should be crossed and force used. They should be careful. If there is to be another world war, let it not be begun lightly. For it will not be concluded easily. Let it not be begun on the advice of exasperated men in Berlin, nor decided on the frivolous speculation that the Russians will not fight if the west acts violently. Above all, let it never be said of the United States that it resorted to war before it had exhausted the possibilities of negotiation and peaceable settlement.

THE UNITED STATES' position is that she will not be driven out of Berlin by force. She has not yet been driven out of Berlin, and as long as she stays in Berlin her honor and interest are preserved, even though she begins once more, however tedious and disappointing the labor, to negotiate about Germany. For the question at issue is not whether she will retire from Berlin. It is whether, while staying in Berlin, she is willing to try again to conclude a general settlement about and with Germany.

NOT ONLY the attitude of France and Great Britain but the developments in western Germany make it necessary and wise to recognize that the American reply to the Russians must go beyond the blockade to the wider issues of a German settlement. The United States now knows that the plan to establish a western German government at Frankfurt, which precipitated the crisis over Berlin, does not have the support even of those western German politicians who are directly dependent upon the British and American military governments. It has been known all along that the French government agreed reluctantly and under severe pressure, and that the approval was wrung from the French National Assembly only by the narrowest margin.

THE UNITED STATES must have a German policy that at the very least has behind it the genuine agreement of the French and the western Germans. For it would be fantastically reckless and irresponsible to precipitate what could be an insoluble European crisis, and perhaps a world war, over a German policy which has no genuine support in any part of continental Europe. ## Truman's Campaign Cigar

Seeds Of Juvenile Crime

AN INCREASE of violence in juvenile delinquency has gone hand in hand with the increased distribution of comic books featuring murder, torture and other violent crimes, declares Dr. Frederic Wertham in The Reader's Digest for August. Dr. Wertham is director of the Psychiatric Service of Queens General Hospital and of the Lafargue Clinic, New York. His article is condensed from The Saturday Review of Literature. From his own clinical studies and those of his associates, Dr. Wertham cites the case histories of several crimes of violence recently committed by 'teen-age' youths. Ranging from the beating and handcuffing of a four-year-old girl to the stabbing of a boy, each of these acts is traced by Wertham directly to the child criminal's addiction to comic books.

Many other juvenile crimes point to the comic-book influence. Wertham insists. A 17-year-old killer left a note signed "The Devil"; three 16-year-old boys killed a 14-year-old "for revenge"; a 13-year-old Chicago boy who murdered a playmate told his lawyer he read all the comic books he could get. Typical was the recent killing of a policeman by a New York youth. "Is that crime so astonishing?" Wertham asks, "in view of the comic-book cover showing a man and woman shooting it out with the police, to the accompaniment of 'We'll give those flatfeet a bellyful of lead!'"

Refuting the arguments in behalf of the comics, Wertham contends that they do not represent the natural choice of children, as their defenders say, for no other books are on sale at 10 cents in candy stores and at newsstands. That they are not educational is evident by their distortion of the classics. Yet many school children have confided to Wertham that the book reports they write as homework are based on the comic-book version of a classic, "so they won't have to read the original."

The author sees the mass production of comics seriously threatening the publication of good, inexpensive children's books, and charges that the "experts" who approve of them are in the employ of the comic-book business. Three U.S. cities—Indianapolis, Detroit and Hillsdale, Mich.—have acted against the sale of comic books deemed harmful to youth, according to the American Municipal Association. In Chicago, school children recently burned all the comic books they could collect and persuaded neighborhood dealers to discontinue their sale.

Priestley On 'Cantankery'

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

J. B. PRIESTLEY, the British novelist, was recently described by a popular London newspaper as "a cantankerous man." Replying to this in an article entitled "Cantankery" appearing in The New Statesman and Nation, Mr. Priestley expresses his astonishment that anyone should regard him as cantankerous, for he says, "I consider myself an easy, good humored fellow," and he adds: "Like most men of my queer trade, I am vain rather than massively conceited, and so am quickly wounded. No doubt I have a hair-trigger sense of grievance. One wrong look, one dubious intonation—and you are out with me, though never for long. But cantankerous? I would prefer to call myself an exasperated man, who glares at the antics of the world and cannot decide whether to laugh or cry."

SOCIALIST ACCUSATION During the postwar general election he was an ardent supporter of the Labor Party, and he was generally regarded as a left-out-and-out Socialist. After three years of Socialist government he is not so out-and-out, and it is the Socialists who now accuse him of "cantankery."

He is presumably still in favor of nationalized industries, but about a year ago he delivered an address roundly condemning the idea of nationalizing novelists and other artists. He contended that they should be allowed freedom of enterprise with full right to their copyrights and profits from royalties and other sources. He is now attacking what he calls the "Tweedledums and Tweedledees." "It does not matter," he says, "whether they are American soap manufacturers, Communist Party bosses, British Trade Union leaders; we can lump them together as Tweedles. And it is my contention that these people share a common outlook. And the grim joke is that the rest of us, who pay—and how we pay!—for the Tweedles, do not really share this view."

HOLLOW SUCCESS The Tweedles are "men of power" and include those of "vast wealth" who control newspapers and radio programs, and "Comrade Tweedle" who "issues directives, deciding everything, from the size of families to the slow movements of symphonies. Even Sir Westminster Tweedle, though less blatant, and impudent."

Letter To The Editor BRITISH INCOME TAX May I be permitted to draw attention to the case of British subjects resident abroad who are in receipt of income from the United Kingdom with British income tax deducted at the source, as the position is not generally understood?

The tax deducted from all foreign and colonial dividends is recoverable in full, and with regard to taxed income from British securities, a claim can be put forward for a proportion of the usual British allowances and rebates. Claims can now be made in respect of income received during the past six years ended April 5, 1948.

Should any of your readers who are interested be in doubt as to the procedure necessary for obtaining the refunds to which they are entitled, if they will write to me at the address given below I shall be pleased to give them free expert advice and any further information they may require.

He hastens to add that this is not because of the Labor government, or because he does not live in New York or Moscow, but because "the power-seekers and power-holders have moved further in, and what I call democracy has moved further out. If we are not careful we shall all die for a democracy to which we said goodbye years ago."

THE BOMBES

My recollection of Priestley is that he was a good eater, and that explains his cantankerousness over the food shortage in England. He concludes: "You can take Dum or Dee: give me ham and eggs. (But nobody will.) Find me a Tweedle who will talk not about bombs but bombes, those delicious confections that are already a fading memory. If we were in our right minds, we should be asking now who has the bombes?"

Montreal Gazette

The robin in Canada has taken on practical importance, particularly during this abundant garden season. His deals in destiny write fates to the horrid ravages of countless millions of ferocious bugs; and his message of happiness is shouted forth to the world at sunrise as with keen eyes and eager heart he flies forth on his busy rounds. He is a gallant fellow, a worthwhile friend, and as is fitting in this country, a worker.

Global Survey

By DeWITT MACKENZIE

A.P. Foreign News Analyst

WHEN is a red not a red, or do Communists who are bent on mischief always give warning by displaying the red danger signal?

It's an ironic circumstance though perhaps not strange, that while 12 top leaders of the United States Communist party were being indicted on charges of advocating the overthrow of the Washington government by force there should also rise the pressing query of whether foreign Communist delegations in the United Nations are a threat to American security.

Last week two state department officials testified before a Senate judiciary sub-committee that hundreds of foreign agents may be operating subversively in the United States on U.N. credentials.

Yesterday State Secretary Marshall in effect disavowed this testimony. He told a press conference that he didn't know of any case in which a foreigner coming to the United States for the U.N. had in any way threatened American security.

INTERESTING BUT CONFUSING

All this is highly interesting though rather confusing, in view of the widespread belief among observers that whenever a Communist pitches his tent he immediately starts subversive activities for Moscow. One is reminded of the great Communist spy ring which was directed from the Soviet embassy in Ottawa and was uncovered two years ago. The operations of this ring were far flung and included the United States.

As regards the Communist leaders indicted in the United States, they deny that the party is engaged in subversive activities or that it takes orders from Moscow. That being so it would make the American Communist party unique, since it is common knowledge that all other Red parties are under the direction of the Cominform which gets its instructions from Moscow.

The whole history of communism since the Bolshevik revolution of 1917 is one of efforts to overthrow foreign governments.

WHY NOT VOTE?

But why the employment of force to establish a Soviet regime why not do it through the ballot box? The answer is that communism calls for bloodshed and terrorism in order to impress the proletariat with the nature of the change. As the encyclopaedia Britannica puts it, "modern communism regards revolution as necessary and a period of dictatorship of the proletariat based on open terror as the only means of creating the Socialist economic and social system."

It is a violation of United States law for any person to advocate the establishment of a government after the manner we have seen employed in Czechoslovakia and in other helpless countries which Moscow has been taking over by strong-arm methods.

The Moscow brand of communism has no more legal rights in the United States than did Al Caponism.

MAGNANIMOUS

Ottawa Journal

When Russia makes a "concession" in the Berlin blockade it's like a polite robber handing back a dime to his victim for carfare.

LEFT-OVER IMPRESSIONS

The Reader's Digest After a tour of the United States, a prominent European was being interviewed on his impressions. He had seen skyscrapers, inspected giant factories, and visited natural wonders. But when the reporters asked what had impressed him most, he replied simply, "The size of the American garbage can."

NON-THEATRICAL

London (Ont.) Free Press Once public interest in politics was almost universal in Canada and the Gilbertian quip about every little girl or boy being either a Liberal or Conservative was quite literally true. Now the clan spirit has subsided. There is more tolerance and less interest. New parties have arisen, and bred their fanatics. Politics has more competitors for public interest. It attracts fewer outstanding personalities. And there are those who feel that Parliament has lost its prestige by becoming more of a rubber stamp than it used to be.

Whatever the reason for it, there does seem to be more public apathy than there used to be—although the proportion of voters doesn't seem to fall greatly, and we can still have a hot contest. Politics lacks its old theatrical appeal.

Statistics Not Dull, Tell Story Of Civilization

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. (CP)—The big Australian sheep rancher seeking a wool market in British Columbia can turn to the United Nations for the latest Canadian commercial statistics.

Through the U.N. Monthly Bulletin of Statistics, a Vancouver lumber king can learn the possibilities of sales in Melbourne.

Montreal-born Louis Shapiro and his staff at the world's agency's headquarters here act as the statistical interpreters between wool and wood salesmen.

GOES TO ALL GOVERNMENTS Use of the tabulated information in the bulletin edited by the 29-year-old Shapiro is by no means confined to research departments of large manufacturing concerns. The publication goes also to some 5,000 government departments, international organizations and libraries the world over.

The fact that a newborn male in Siam can expect to live 37 years while his counterpart in New Zealand can expect to live 65 years, is useful to insurance experts and educationists as well as business men engaged in foreign trade.

The Bulletin, published by the U.N. statistical office, also provides data on such subjects as population, employment, industrial production, raw materials, foods, trade, finance, wages and prices.

Shapiro, a graduate of McGill University at Montreal, describes in an interview the difficulties of assembling information from around the world and interpreting it for international consumption.

Data arrives by cable and mail. It is arranged by a staff which includes Czechs, New Zealanders, Norwegians, Indians, Britons, Americans and Russians.

WORK IN HARMONY

"And they work in amazing harmony," said Shapiro, past president of the U.N. employees' association.

A member of Britain's staff on the Wartime Joint Production Board in Washington, Shapiro came here in 1946 at U.N.'s request. He had planned a career in sociology but jumped at the U.N. job which offered a world of interest.

"Statistics are not dull," he said. "Figures tell the story of civilization."

Shapiro said one of the main problems on international statistics is to standardize terms used so the Burmese government officials can understand Norway's tables. To this end the U.N. has established a statistical commission to set up an international standard for gathering and comparing statistics.

6 Men Lose Lives When Bridge Falls Into Ottawa River

DESJOACHIMS RAPIDS, Que. (CP)—Six men plunged to death in the foaming rapids of the Ottawa River Wednesday when an army-type Bailey bridge collapsed without warning.

Employees of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario, they were drowned near the spot where four workmen died when a cat-walk crashed into the river last Nov. 22.

H.E.P.C. officials at this power development site 40 miles northwest of Pembroke, Ont., said the victims of yesterday's tragedy were: Eli Bertrand, St. Joseph's parish, Allumette Island, Que.; his cousin, Aldmore Bertrand, also of Allumette Island; Edward Picotte, Allumette Island; Romeo Chaput, Chapleau, Que.;

Roy McDonald, Sheenboro, Que.; Aime Jette, 37, Pembroke. Searchers worked until midnight in an unsuccessful attempt to locate the bodies. They continued their grim task today.

The victims were rigging the unfinished bridge, which linked the Quebec shore with a mid-stream island. They fell 125 feet into the turbulent, white-topped rapids. No other workman was on the bridge at the time.

Erection of coffer dams has blocked off a large part of the river, sending most of the flow through the 100-foot channel between Desjoachims and the island. So fast is the current that natives say it is impossible to launch a boat.

The tragedy occurred about 20 minutes before the men would have stopped work for the day. They had rigged the lower section of the 140-foot bridge and were running out the top section when the whole structure collapsed.

Butter In Australia 35 Cents; Ration Six Ounces Each Week;

By LESLIE BRODY SYDNEY, Australia (CP)—Despite the rising cost of living and the high price of dairy products on the world's markets, the Australian housewife is still able to buy a pound of butter at local stores for the equivalent of 35 cents.

The price may seem low to a Canadian housewife, but it has only been topped once in this century in Australia—when it reached 40 cents during the First World War.

Sensible marketing plans, aided by a subsidy of $19,200,000 and an equalization scheme adopted voluntarily by producers, are responsible.

Butter manufacturers may sell their butter locally or export it, but it makes no difference to their final returns. All factories voluntarily submit their returns to the Dairy Products Equalization Board, which equalizes local and export prices and pays producers a guaranteed price for their milk.

This price is fixed by representatives of the factories and farmers. This year it was increased July 1 to 35 cents for each pound of commercial butter produced—the same price the housewife pays for it—and will remain at that price for the next five years regardless of world prices. Adjustments in price may be made according to farmers' costs.

The export price of Australian butter is 37 cents a pound whole sale and is fixed on a government-to-government basis between the British and Australian governments.

Butter is still rationed here to six ounces a week for each person. Margarine never has had much popularity with Australians. Australians today are drinking more milk than at any time in their history. Since the beginning of the war the rate of consumption has risen 25 per cent.

Canadian butter ceiling prices vary by provinces and range from a low of 71 cents in Alberta and Saskatchewan to a high of 75 cents a pound in the Maritimes. In Ontario and Quebec the ceiling is 74 cents, in British Columbia 73 cents and in Manitoba 72 cents.

More Boats Expected To Fish For Tuna; Over 1,000 Out Now

VANCOUVER (CP) — Marine "gold" is just waiting to be mined out beyond the Strait of Juan de Fuca—and today British Columbia fishermen are after it.

The gold is a scaly finall—known to the grocery store buyer as tuna fish and to the men who ply the Pacific's waters as the "chicken of the sea."

This week deep-sea fishermen, operating from here and Victoria, are making B.C.'s fifth annual attack on the roaming schools of tuna fish.

MORE THAN 500 TONS

A new industry here, born of the war years, tuna fishing this year is expected to bring a catch upwards of 500 tons. At more than $600 a ton there's a sound justification for naming the catch "marine gold."

Fish packers here were modest about the early catch already in their warehouses. "Perhaps a few tons," one said. At Victoria the first haul of 5,584 pounds was landed last Saturday.

To the fish expert the "chicken" found off B.C.'s coast belongs to the albacore family, ranging in weight from 11 to 15 pounds.

"They're easy to catch," one fisherman said. "They'll bite on anything, even an old rag. But, he added, "tuna fishing is no game for greenhorns." They're caught many miles off the coast, in the open Pacific where the weather is unpredictable.

B.C. tuna fishermen, new to the game, are using long lines hook-baited with "feathers." Down south, along the United States coast, where the tuna game is not new, they are caught by both nets and unbaited hooks on lines.

MANY FROM U.S.

About 20 boats now are operating from here, but more are expected out soon. Victoria reports about 1,000, mostly from the United States, operating west of there.

Aware of the new industry's potentialities, the Dominion fisheries department sent out a vessel this year for the first time to locate the moving tuna schools. The craft is equipped with radio to advise fishermen of the tuna arrival in advance.

OHIO AND WISCONSIN HAVE GIGANTIC TOTEM MOUNDS

As I said in a past story, some Indian mounds were used to cover the remains of the dead. The mounds in the shape of animals were made for a different purpose. In rare cases, bones have been found under them, but in general they seem to have been prepared for the sake of worship.

It was a widespread custom among Indians to have "totems." Often each clan in a tribe had its own special totem, as a bear or a wolf or an eagle. The members of the clan believed that their chief ancestor had appeared in such shape.

Along the Pacific coast—chiefly in parts of British Columbia and Alaska—there live today people sometimes called "totem pole Indians." In central parts of the United States—chiefly in Wisconsin—there used to live people whom we might call "totem mound Indians."

The totem mounds were made in many shapes. Some were a few feet wide, but others stretched out hundreds of feet.

Hundreds of totem mounds exist today. The largest of those in Wisconsin represent eagles or hawks. One has a shape which might be of either a hawk or an eagle, and is located near the shore of Lake Mendota. Its wings measure 624 feet from tip to tip.

Totem mounds also are called "effigy mounds." One good-sized mound has the shape of a swallow, another of a weasel.

Most of the thousands of Indian mounds in the Ohio are burial mounds, but Ohio has two famous mounds of the totem or effigy type. One of these is in Licking county, in the central part of the state. It is known as Alligator Mound, but more likely was meant as the outline of a lizard. The length is almost 250 feet, and it has a stone circle at one side. The Mound Builders are believed to have used the stone circle as an altar.

Great Serpent Mound is another wonder of the past to be found in Ohio. It is in the shape of a snake. If we measure along all its curves, we find that it has a length of a quarter of a mile. The body of the snake is 30 feet wide in some places, and the height is from three to five feet. The wide-open jaws spread out 75 feet and seem ready to seize a huge egg-shaped object.

Swimming Classes For Air Cadets

An important step in the annual R.C.A.F. Cadet camp at Pat

Bay is the instructional swimming program in which cadets may qualify for junior, intermediate and senior awards. Al Hendricksen is the chief instructor of this branch, and each cadet receives one instructional period a week.

Bob Stangroom, supervisor for Vancouver Island, reports that the three camps, of two weeks' duration each, are composed of 300 cadets each, and the first camp, completed July 18, saw 32 cadets qualify for the junior swimming awards, 25 for intermediate and 20 for senior awards. Classes are held Monday through Friday from 1 to 4 at Beaver Lake, and the cadets are taken down in flights. Second batch of tests will be held early next week, with the final camp slated to open Aug. 1. Mr. Stangroom reports that cadets are greatly limited in filling in time for individual swimming practice due to the heavy program being carried out in the cadet camps.

Immigration Vital To Australia

LONDON (Reuter) — R. G. Menzies, leader of the opposition in Australia, said here that immigration will be Australia's vital problem for the next 10 or 15 years.

"We in Australia will not continue to exist as a free country, except by the benevolence of some great and friendly power, unless we get more people," he told a press conference.

Australia now has a population of 7,000,000.

Father Dies Trying To Save Son's Life

WINNIPEG (CP) — Michael John Ellis, 38, died in a hospital Wednesday from injuries suffered Tuesday when he made a heroic attempt to save his infant son from being hit by a speeding truck.

Ellis, driving near his home, saw his 18-month-old son, Frankie, running to greet him. Seeing an oncoming truck, Ellis jumped from his own vehicle, ran to the road past the first truck but was struck by a second. The boy was pulled to safety by a 14-year-old brother, Wilfred.

Mayhew Says New Post King's Thanks To Vancouver Island

Fisheries Minister R. W. Mayhew told guests at a civic luncheon in his honor Wednesday afternoon that he believed one reason for his recent appointment to the Dominion cabinet was Prime Minister King's desire to show his gratitude and appreciation to the people of Victoria and Vancouver Island for the part they played in World War II.

In his response to the tribute paid him by Mayor Percy George and the presentation of a Victoria medallion, Mr. Mayhew spoke of the responsibilities in the "present difficult period."

He warned that care must be taken in our actions as there are so many things which might plunge the world into war and chaos. "We must think carefully and prayerfully in the things that we do at this time."

Turning to the Fraser River Valley flood disaster in which he was greatly responsible for planning of Dominion government aid, Mr. Mayhew told the gathering he believed the federal government had done the right thing.

WISE MOVE MADE

He said he considered it much wiser that the government had given the outright contribution of $5,000,000 to the provincial government than to have become mixed up with joint Dominion-provincial committees which could only have resulted in delaying the aid to the area.

He also paid tribute to the people of the valley, adding that after a trip through the area he had come to the conclusion that it was "a valley of heroes."

He particularly stressed the value of the work of the army, navy and air force and recalled that only seven human lives and 100 head of cattle were lost in the whole flood period.

"Somebody deserves a great deal of credit and I trust that in time it will be suitably recognized," he said.

Turning to the work of the fisheries department, Mr. Mayhew reported that of the total fish harvest of $120,000,000 in 1946, and $117,000,000 in 1947, about 48 per cent had come from the Pacific coast.

He told the meeting that of the department's $5,900,000 budget for the current year, the main portion was devoted to conservation and propagation work. There was also the very important matter of fish inspection which was endeavoring to ensure that the best quality of fish possible was reaching the market.

He said he believed there could be a great increase in the value of fish caught but added that this could only be done if quality was ensured.

It was also necessary to keep a continual guard against taking more fish than could be used, he said.

Urges Youth Fight Enemies Of Church

LONDON (AP) — Princess Elizabeth appealed Thursday to British youth to fight "the worst enemies of the Christian church—apathy, misunderstanding and diffidence."

She spoke to members of the Church of England Youth Council at Lambeth Palace.

The princess, who is expecting a baby in October, had canceled all public engagements at the end of June, but decided to make an exception for her short talk Wednesday.

Find 11th Victim Of Vanport Flood

VANPORT, Ore. (AP) — The body of a woman was discovered Wednesday floating in an apartment building of Vanport, the 18,700-population city destroyed by flood May 30.

The woman—not identified—was the 11th known victim of the Vanport flood. Deputy sheriffs saw the body from a neighboring building, and took a boat in to recover it.

Several feet of water still remain in parts of Vanport. Searchers, able to enter lower floor apartments only during the last few days, expect to find still more victims. Sixteen persons are listed as missing since the flood.

Sheer Net Enhances Bridal Gown Of White Brocaded Nylon

Clouds of sheer white net billowed train-length from a wreath of orange blossoms over the brocaded nylon wedding gown worn by Mabel June Harrison as she entered St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Tuesday evening at 8, on the arm of her father, to become the bride of Gordon Franklin Boyd.

Rev. J. L. W. McLean officiated at the double-ring ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Campbell Grove Harrison, 620 Michigan Street, and son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Boyd, 700 Newbury Street, in a setting of white gladioli and pink carnations.

Mrs. Fred Wilmshurst presided at the organ.

The bride chose a double strand pearl necklace and matching earrings, her groom's gifts, to complement her gown, styled with sweetheart neckline and tiny buttons marching down the back of the fitted bodice to the full skirt caught with a bustled bow. Scarlet roses and white sweet peas were in her colonial bouquet.

Sisters of the bride and groom, Miss Sue Harrison, shell pink taffeta with net gloves and head-dress to match, and Miss Vera Boyd, in azure blue moire taffeta with net overskirt, and gloves and in theme head-dress were bridal attendants. They carried colonial bouquets of sweet peas, carnations and rosebuds.

Donald Adair was best man and Jack Gown and Mickey McLeod acted as ushers.

Strathcona Hotel was the scene of the reception where C. F. Wharton gave the bride's toast. The newlyweds, with their parents received guests. A miniature bride and groom topped the three-tier wedding cake. Vocal selections, "Il Bacio" and "Because," were given by Miss Pamela Newton.

Later, when the couple left for their wedding trip to the mainland, Mrs. Boyd was wearing a Burgundy wine ballerina suit with topcoat to match, and crisp white accessories.

Printed London Scenes On Souvenir Scarfs

LONDON (CP) — Visitors to London find plenty of souvenirs to carry home, but women will probably prefer the new scarfs designed by a silk manufacturing firm.

These squares of silk are printed with famous London landmarks, sketched diagonally across a plain colored square. The purist may, perhaps, object that the sight of Tower Bridge and the Tower in close juxtaposition with the Mansion House, St. Paul's, Westminster Abbey and Eros, not to mention two or three more well-known buildings, can hardly be regarded as good topography, but few women are likely to worry about it.

The scarf, which is produced in seven shades, teal, blush (a shade of rose), parma violet, jacquamarine (a shade of blue), brown, navy and apple green, has a border formed by a repeat of the word "London" in old English type.

Returns To Victoria As Successful Star

MISS DOREEN WILSON

A little over 12 years ago, a vivacious young girl was dancing and singing her way into the hearts of Victoria music lovers, as she appeared in local service club productions, musicals and concerts.

She had wide dark eyes, light brown hair, a charming smile, and a clear soprano voice that held great promise for the future. Her name was Doreen Wilson. Tonight, weather permitting, that same girl, now a poised and attractive young woman, returns to Victoria, after an absence of 10 years, to sing the lead in the Starlight Theatre's second production, "Floradora."

Her eyes are still wide and dark. Her smile just as charming. Her hair, now a deep shade of honey blonde, shows off to perfection, the deep suntan acquired on a recent holiday in Hawaii.

The clear soprano voice, now full and rich, has fulfilled its promise, bringing acclaim and more than a little fame to this young Victorian, in moving pictures in Hollywood and on the stage and in radio in New York. Despite all this, when she was interviewed in her suite at the Empress Hotel yesterday afternoon, Miss Wilson's greatest joy was in coming "home."

HOME TOWN CHANGED

"I find Victoria changed, of course," she said, "and I can't say that I like the new hustle and bustle.

"You know, when you have a memory of your home town and then suddenly find the reality quite different, it does give you a strange feeling."

The charming smile flashed and she added, "but it's good to be here, after all these years. Good to see old friends."

Miss Wilson has worked hard in the years since she played her first leading role in a Gyo Club production in Victoria.

First in radio in Vancouver, then in Los Angeles in radio and moving pictures and finally in New York.

"From the day I started to sing," she tells you, "that was the height of my ambition, to dance and sing on Broadway."

Miss Wilson realized her ambition, first by acting as understudy to Ira Petina in the Broadway production "Song of Norway," and during that period appearing 37 times in the leading role herself; then by singing the lead in the Victor Herbert production, "Gypsy Lady." She also made a 40-week tour of the United States as lead in "Song of Norway" and has appeared as guest artist on outstanding network programs including the CBS "Great Moments in Music."

She has just completed an engagement as lead in Vancouver's Theatre Under the Stars production, "Bitter Sweet."

FAMILY REUNION

Added to the thrill of returning to her home town for the first time in many years, is the reunion Miss Wilson is enjoying with her family.

Her mother, Mrs. Eugene Forster, the former Mrs. Dorothy Wilson, well known dancing teacher of Victoria and Vancouver, is here from Fort St. John. And her sister, Josephine, who is secretary with a famed talent scout organization in New York City, with headquarters in Roxy's Theatre, is vacationing on the coast. Mr. Forster completes the party, all staying at the Empress Hotel.

"You can just imagine the excitement and confusion," Miss Wilson said with a happy laugh.

"What with rehearsals, my family coming and going, friends calling, we're in an upheaval all day long."

Then she concluded, "but I'm enjoying every minute of it."

When her engagement in Victoria and Vancouver concludes Miss Wilson and her sister plan a holiday trip up-island, to Qualicum, Campbell River and Forbes Landing, "just relaxing and enjoying the peace and quiet of the countryside we knew when we were youngsters."

Later they return to New York, where Miss Wilson will be singing again next winter.

Garden Party Tea Honors Summer School Visitors

Col. F. T. Fahey, Deputy Minister of Education, and Mrs. Fahey entertained this afternoon at a garden party and tea at their Beach Drive home. Guests were British Columbia school inspectors and their wives, and out-of-province lecturers at the provincial summer school here. Invited to preside at the urns were Mrs. J. F. K. English, Mrs. S. J. Willis, Mrs. H. L. Campbell and Mrs. J. Gough.

August Bride-Elect Feted

Miss Pat Cowan was hostess at a surprise bridal shower at her Queenswood home, Wednesday evening, to honor a bride-elect of next month, Miss Maureen Stuart Yates, whose marriage to Mr. Jack Duffus will take place on Aug. 16. A buffet supper was served with Mrs. R. S. Stuart Yates, mother of the honor guest presiding at the urns. The Misses Gwen Griffiths, Felicity Coope and Jill Gore-Langton acted as servitors. Other invited guests were the Misses Beverley Stuart Yates, Denise Stuart Yates, Joan Griffiths, Gloria Kendall, Shirley Adair, Pamela Butcher, Pam Greenhill, Barbara Shaw, Elizabeth Motherwell, Francette d'Estrube and Nancy Adair.

Miss Yates was also honored

Mrs. Carew Gibson of Vancouver is spending two weeks in the city, the guest of Mrs. W. Curtis Sampson, "Moulton Coombe," Newport Avenue.

Mrs. W. R. Hick and her daughter, Miss Mildred Hick, have returned to their home on McKenzie Avenue, after spending the week-end in Port Angeles, where they visited Olympic Hot Springs.

Visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Ash, Langford, is Mr. John Ash, of the American Army Transport Service, who has been stationed in the Philippines, China and Japan during the past three years.

Honoring Miss Barbara Heien Ward, Mrs. Fred W. Grossmith, assisted by Mrs. V. D. Young and Mrs. L. H. Noble, entertained at a miscellaneous shower at the Grossmith home, 3008 Cadboro Bay Road, Tuesday night. Little Bonnie Noble and Ronnie Grossmith presented gifts from a three-tier mock wedding cake to the bride-elect of this week. The lace covered table was centred with a cut-glass bowl of sweet peas, gladioli and carnations, flanked by white candles. Miss Ward and her mother, Mrs. C. Ward, were presented with corsage bouquets. Guests were Mesdames A. Taylor, L. Gropp, S. Saunders, G. Keays, D. McMillan, M. Ashton, J. Sloan, H. Holmes, D. Ward, B. Barnes, F. Buxton, J. Mooney, L. McMillan, W. Ward and Misses Joy Keays, Gladys Fontaine and Doris Grossmith.

Expects Wheat Price Drop But Canadian Pact Stands

LONDON (CP)—Food Minister Strachey said today he expects world wheat prices to fall much farther, but that the agreement with Canada for a price increase, effective Aug. 1, still stands.

"I think wheat prices are likely to drop much farther and much faster during the next six months," he told a press conference held 24 hours after he announced that bread rationing in the United Kingdom will end Sunday.

But he added there have been no negotiations with Canada to continue the present price of $1.55 a bushel on her wheat sold to the United Kingdom.

"The 1948-49 price has been fixed at $2," Strachey said. "Negotiations on the 1949-50

price must be undertaken before the end of this calendar year. "These negotiations have not yet begun."

The food minister said the end of rationing will not mean an increase in wheat imports, two-thirds of which come from Canada.

Britain did not propose to buy more wheat because "we don't feel we can afford it or would be justified in calling on the world wheat pool for increased quantities."

Asked if rationing would have to be restored if Canada has a crop failure this year, he replied: "If the Canadian crop failed, and the Dominion could not live up to its contract, it would be a grave disaster for this country and for the world."

A good Australian wheat crop had been an "indispensable factor" in easing Britain's supply position.

Strachey said Britain's withdrawal from the international wheat agreement became necessary when the United States did not ratify it.

"You would have thought the drop in wheat prices would have made the agreement more attractive to the United States as an exporting nation," he said.

If the United States subsequently ratified the agreement, a new situation would be created and Britain would reconsider its decision.

Denies Recall

OTTAWA (CP)—The Russian Embassy here said today no member of its staff had been recalled to Moscow.

The statement was made in response to rumors which spread through the capital Wednesday night that "The attache" at the Embassy had been recalled.

The rumors appeared to refer to the Russian charge d'affaires, Nikolai D. Belokhovostikov, who has been senior Soviet diplomat here since Ambassador Georges Zaroubin left more than two years ago.

Sooke Blonde Wins Times Baby Contest

Winner of the Victoria Daily Times rural baby contest at All-Sooke Day Wednesday was 16-month old Diane Zelenko, shown above with her mother, Mrs. Jack Zelenko of Sooke. The blonde champion was victorious over 100 entrants from rural communities on southern Vancouver Island. (See page 2 for story and pictures on All-Sooke Day.)

Firms May Enter Policyholders In Government Hospital Scheme

The door has been opened for health insurance agencies to combine with the provincial government hospital insurance service to give individual coverage.

Health Minister George S. Pearson said today that where insurance plans are in operation providing a combination of benefits, including hospital care, arrangements may be made with the government hospital insurance service whereby its services may be substituted for hospital services provided in the combination plan.

The insuring agency would pay the government on behalf of the insured.

Mr. Pearson said this plan is intended to simplify the problem of providing additional benefits on a group basis.

"This is in line with the policy of the government that encouragement should be given to the development of plans providing medical benefits beyond the scope of the Hospital Insurance Act," the minister said.

This does not alter existing arrangements for registration, though, he advised.

Old B-17 In Azores May Be Handed To U.S. Official

SANTA MARIA, Azores (CP)

—A mysterious converted Flying Fortress that left Halifax for New York and landed here last Sunday, may be delivered to a United States air official stationed in the Azores, it is believed.

The plane's passengers, reported headed for Palestine to join the Israeli forces, are in a hotel here awaiting instructions from Washington to return to the United States.

When the plane landed here there were 18 passengers aboard. (Halifax reports said that when the plane left that city's airport there were nine men aboard.)

NO U.S. ACTION

OTTAWA (CP) — Only one thing seems to emerge solidly from the case of the baffling old B-17, now at the Azores, a government source said without marked venom today—the United States didn't squander even a minimum of effort to have it returned.

It landed at Halifax and was held for several days.

The official said there were a number of ways the U.S. could have made sure the plane returned. It might, for one thing, have sent a pilot to Halifax to do the job.

Meanwhile, nobody seems to know how nine men became 18,

Air Raid Alarms Sounded In Cairo; Raid Unconfirmed

CAIRO (AP) — Air raid sirens wailed for 40 minutes in Cairo early today and anti-aircraft guns went into action. It was not immediately determined whether a raid actually took place.

In Damascus, the Syrian government said Zionist groups attacked Syrian positions at Tell Aziziyat Wednesday night and 27 Jews were killed.

A communique said one Jewish plane raided Baniyas late Wednesday and caused slight casualties. Air raid sirens also were heard in Damascus.

The Syrian government said it had protested to the United Nations against these alleged truce violations.

Jewish reports from various sectors in Palestine previously had said the second U.N. truce, which began Sunday, was being observed at last. There was sporadic fighting in the north and south for three days after the cease-fire deadline.

The newspaper Al Ahran today quoted Iraqi Premier Nuri al-Bachachi as saying Iraq had recalled her delegates to the U.N. as a protest against the world body's Palestine policy.

Australia To Aid In Malayan Battle

CANBERRA (CP) — R.A.A.F. Liberators and Australian navy vessels will carry arms and munitions to Malaya if the British government requests them, reliable sources said today.

Prime Minister Chifley has promised he will ask the cabinet to lift a ban on the export of war material because of the threat to the British Commonwealth seen in the current disturbances in Malaya blamed on Communist guerrillas.

500 Attend Oak Bay Liberals' Picnic

Fisheries Minister Mayhew chats with nine-year-old Anne Sutton after presenting her with a novel 30-year-old doll donated by a Vancouver Liberal attending the picnic. Anne was winner of a potato-and-spoon race. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sutton of Cordova Bay.

Arthur Ash, Saanich M.L.A., and Rev. William Hills of the Cadboro Bay Anglican Church had just as much fun as the youngsters at the Oak Bay Liberal Association picnic. Here they pose with a group of young runners after the sports program. They acted as officials, assisting George Gregory in staging the races.

A good old-fashioned picnic of yesteryear was held by the Oak Bay Liberal Association at Willows Park Wednesday to the enjoyment of nearly 500 men, women and children.

People from all walks of life were there to chat with Federal Fisheries Minister Robert W. Mayhew, Premier Byron Johnson, Lands Minister E. T. Kenney, and M.L.A.'s Mrs. Nancy Hodges and Arthur Ash, special guests of the day.

One of the city's most promising young lawyers, George Gregory, ran the races. Rev. William Hills and Mr. Ash were his assistants, and although there were a few tears now and then from little ones who did not win, everyone appeared to have fun.

OLDSTERS RUN RACES

The sports program was mainly for the youngsters but they took over the sidelines when a few events for parents and the older people were announced. Taking part with great enthusiasm in these were such people as Fred McGregor, Oak Bay Fire Chief Ed. Clayards, Archie Gibbs and J. V. Johnson.

Dozens of prizes were distributed by H. R. Stephens and H. M. S. Bell. Ice cream and soft drinks went like "hot cakes" for the asking. In charge of distributing the refreshments were W. S. Kirkpatrick, association president, and J. H. Harman.

Grounds were decked out specially for the picnic by a committee composed of C. C. Annett and Jack Maltman, Liberal organizer. A running strip was roped off. Tables and chairs were arranged for the spectators. A public address system brought announcements to all.

A program of songs and other entertainment after supper was arranged by E. S. Farr and H. A. Beckwith. During the supper hour, tea, coffee and milk were provided.

Not a stone was left unturned to make the picnic a success. The association executive even had a first aid man on hand in case of mishaps. In charge was H. H. Hollins.

Picnic chairman was Ralph Matthews.

Before leaving to visit the All-Sooke Day festivities, Mr. Mayhew gave a brief address in which he wished one and all a happy day.

It was good to be home, he said, and it was a pleasure to attend a picnic at Willows Park, "which is a familiar spot to me as Mrs. Mayhew and I have lived 25 of the happiest years of our lives just a few doors down the street."

Democratic Action Group Says Wallace Party Tool Of Reds

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Americans for Democratic action group today assailed Henry Wallace's New Party as a tool of the Communists.

Even as Wallace lashed out at the federal indictment of 12 Communists in New York, the A.D.A. said through James Loeb, its executive secretary, that:

"Mr. Wallace's candidacy (for President) does not obscure the fact that the Communists and their collaborators guide the main policies and word the major pronouncements of this party."

There was some doubt, however, that this frontal attack, prepared for delivery because the committee which is drafting a platform for the Wallace convention meeting here tomorrow, would ever be delivered formally.

Wallace, due here tomorrow to take over personal leadership of his New Party, criticized the indictment of Communist leaders in New York.

The indictments "are another in a series of diversions created for Americans who are complaining about mounting inflation, the stupid bungling in Berlin and other problems," he said.

"Both the administration and bipartisans in Congress make allegations to make headlines, make headlines to make fear and make fear to stay in power." The theme of the New Party

—it will likely be formally named either the "Progressive" or the "People's" Party—cropped out in its uncompleted platform.

Reporters were told the platform will say that "capitalist America and Communist Russia can and must live together in the same world."

Condemning the Marshall Plan, the platform is expected to pledge "through negotiations and discussions with the Soviet Union, in good faith, to find areas of agreement to win the peace."

It probably will call for repeal of the draft law and the Taft-Hartley Act. It is expected to urge a $1-an-hour minimum wage and a cut-back in prices to 1946 levels. It probably will back public ownership of banks, railroads and utilities.

Thousands See Rigger Fall From Spar Tree

Close to 8,000 people at the 12th Annual All-Sooke Day at Sooke River flats Wednesday watched tensely as Ronnie Walker, employee of the Elder Logging Company, taking part in the high riggers' climbing contest, fell over 20 feet while descending the 77-foot spar tree and hung precariously fighting off unconsciousness, 30 feet above the ground.

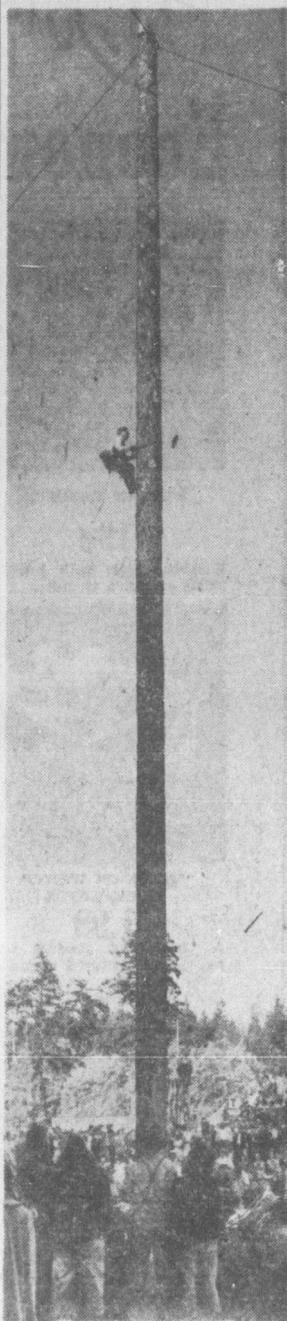

The husky logger finally managed to descend, but passed out when he reached the ground. He was treated on the scene for an injured back by Dr. D. Miller and taken to Royal Jubilee Hospital for X-rays.

Walker, the last contestant in the final event on the smoothly-run program, was descending the spar tree in five foot jumps when he missed his footing and fell. As some spectators screamed, he finally managed to dig his spurs in, but the shock of the sudden stop wrenched his back where the climbing belt gives support.

Other contestants started donning spurs and called encouragement to Walker as he hung dizzily back on his belt, his arms dangling at his sides.

St. John Ambulance workers assisted Dr. Miller in treating Walker.

It was the only serious injury reported during the day.

RONNIE WALKER
... on his way up.

Canada May Require Big Newfoundland Vote Before Union

OTTAWA (CP)—If today's Newfoundland referendum produces only a small majority for confederation with Canada, the Canadian government may decide union should not be consummated on that basis, an informed source said today.

(In Newfoundland more than 176,000 were eligible to mark ballots today in 1,300 polling stations set up in the bustling capital and in lonely outposts strewn in abandoned fashion around the 3,000 miles of cliff-ribbed coast.

The polls opened at 9 a.m. N.D.T. (4.30 a.m. P.D.T.) and will close at 9 p.m.

(The referendum is the culmination of two years of concentrated campaigning both for and against union with Canada.)

Reaffirming the ultra-cautious no-interference attitude that has characterized Ottawa policy from the start, a government official said it was doubtful that any official statement would be made from here until next week. It was not expected that returns on the confederation or responsible government vote would be complete until Friday or Saturday.

Soviets Press Italy To Deliver Warships

ROME (AP)—The newspaper Giornale Della Sera said Wednesday Russia again has insisted on immediate delivery of Italian warships awarded her as reparations. The newspaper said Italy replied that the peace treaty allows her two years in which to turn over the ships.

Eden In Berlin

Deputy leader of the opposition in the British Commons, Anthony Eden is shown above on his arrival at the Gatow airport, Berlin, where he flew from Hamburg in Gen. Robertson's silver Dakota aircraft. He met the control commission officials, and gave an address at the British information centre.

Panama Ships To Be Boycotted

OSLO, Norway (AP)—Union leaders announced Thursday night an international labor boycott of ships sailing under the flags of Panama and Honduras soon will be applied. The date for the opening of the boycott will be decided by the International Transport Workers' Federation, now holding an international congress here.

Delegates said it is believed generally that many ship owners have placed their vessels under Panamanian or Honduran registry to dodge taxation or to evade complying with other countries' standards of wages and working conditions.

Allies Will Widen Scope Of Talks On Berlin With Russia

LONDON (AP)—The western powers were reported by a British official today to have agreed tentatively to widen negotiations over Berlin to include several other German problems.

The informant implied that representatives of Britain, the United States and France had agreed to make this concession to the Russians in the draft of a new note protesting the Soviet blockade of Berlin.

Officials here believe, however, that removal of the road and rail blockade almost certainly will remain a key condition for discussions.

Washington authorities expect the note to reiterate the demand of the western powers that Russia lift the blockade while stressing that there has been no weakening of western determination to remain in Berlin despite the heavy emphasis now being placed on a peaceful settlement.

Ready For Contests

SOUTHAMPTON (Reuter)—Canada's Olympic team, 133 strong, arrived here today on the liner Aquitania after a calm Atlantic passage. All were fit and well.

Police On Track Of $120,000 Loot

MONTREAL (CP)—Arrest of a man and recovery of a number of stolen bonds here may be another step toward solution of a $120,000 bank robbery in Campbellville, Ont., last year.

Terrance O'Reilly, Toronto insurance broker, now is serving a three-year term in Kingston Penitentiary, convicted after some of the bonds stolen at Campbellville on June 7, 1947, were found in his possession. Police said they had established that some of the stolen bonds in question had passed through hands of the man arrested Wednesday.

Vessel Repaired At Yarrows Ltd.

Repairs to the 65-foot cabin cruiser Marlyn, which suffered considerable damage when she grounded and sank in nearby waters in June while en route from Seattle to Juneau, Alaska, have been completed at Yarrows Ltd., it was learned today.

The vessel, owned by J. C. Bowles, is expected to continue her journey today to Alaska. She will proceed up the west coast.

Further Marathon Talks At Yugoslav Communist Parley

BELGRADE (AP)—The fifth Congress of the Yugoslav Communist Party continued today with another marathon speech following up Premier Tito's eight-hour blast which accused the Russian-led Cominform of trying to foment civil war in Yugoslavia.

Interior Minister Alexander Rankovic took up where Tito had left off Wednesday.

Rankovic, whose name has been one to strike terror into the hearts of all Tito's enemies, talked on party organization. Rankovic heads the security police.

The Belgrade press was given over almost completely to Tito's speech to the 2,300 delegates to this Congress, shunned by the Communist parties of other Russian satellites.

The press also carried a hint of what may come. Borba, official Communist newspaper, reported that Communist leaders of Montenegro asked the re-election of all "the old heroic central committee of the party." They especially wanted the return of Tito, Rankovic, Milovan Djilas and Eduard Kardelj, Tito's vice-premier.

Strive To Give Victoria First W.I.L. Pennant

VICTORIA ATHLETICS

In the midst of a great midseason drive that has swept them into a contending position, Manager Ted Norbert's crew looks to have a first-class chance to bring this city a Western International League baseball championship. The club boasts a great home record and in recent engagements has been attracting large crowds. If present attendance holds up the A's will better their last year's record of 130,000. From left to right: Front row, Babe Jensen, Russ Walseth, Len Kasparovitch, Jim Propst, Del Owens, Charlie Balassi, Jack Palmer, Roy Gilmore and Carl Bellagente, club trainer; back row, Sal Recca, Archie Wilson, Frank Logue, Joe Blankenship, Vic Buccola, Bill Harmsen, Lou Kubiak, Dick Morgan, Al Goot and Manager Norbert. Sitting in front is Berlyn Hodges, bat boy. Gilmore has left the club since the picture was taken.

Fea's Rink Gains Semifinal Round In B.C. Tourney

VANCOUVER (CP)—In the British Columbia lawn bowling tournament play here Wednesday a team of six Canadian rinks defeated a visiting United States squad, 128 to 114, to regain the Robert Gray trophy.

In other play most rinks advanced to semifinal play. Silvio Maddalon of Lake Hill, Victoria, and Jack Little of Victoria West remained in the Sparling singles, and Jack Keating of Victoria West and Jimmy Gavin of Nanaimo remained in the Masterman singles.

J. Imrie of Victoria West, last Victoria survivor in the Chambers (champion of champions) singles was beaten in the second round by Johnny Gavin of Grandview, 21 to 16. In the Oakland doubles, Silvio Maddalon and Brian Bowden of Lake Hill, Victoria, bowed out to Handling and Wallace of North Vancouver by a score of 34 to 13.

Beisser Defeated In Seattle Tennis

SEATTLE (AP)—An upset, which eliminated fifth-seeded Arnold Beisser of Santa Ana marked the third day's play in the Washington State tennis tournament.

Beisser bowed to Wally Bostick of Seattle in a marathon match 11-9, 8-10, 6-1. Earl Cochell, top-seeded from San Francisco, and Richard (Pancho) Gonzales (No. 2) from Los Angeles advanced with ease. Cochell defeated Bob Moran, Seattle, 6-2, 6-1. Gonzales topped Les Patten, Spokane, Wash., 6-3, 6-2.

Brentwood Aces Hit Ball Hard To Win

Brentwood Aces and Timber Service met last night in the first game of their three-out-of-five semifinal playoff in senior A men's softball, and the Aces held off a last-inning rally to win 13 to 9. The clash produced lots of excitement for the large crowd and the teams must have set two records, one for total runs and the other for bases on balls.

Earl King issued eight walks, Norman Martin one, and Brian Sluggett for the Suburbanites eight, a grand total of 17. King retired the first two batters to face him, but Billy Benn and John Furmston walked. Ronnie Benn singled, scoring B. Benn and Furmston advanced to third. The runner at third hit out for home on a throw trying to catch Benn stealing second. Jack Battie cut off the throw and he hit Furmston on the right back and the run was in, giving Brentwood a 2 to 0 lead.

In the bottom of the first the lumbermen went into a 3 to 2 lead as Battie smashed a home run with two runners aboard. Doug Hudlin of Timber Service put his team on the long end of a 5 to 2 score in the second inning, when he got hold of a pitch that ended up in the trees in left, and chased home Gus Hilton, who had reached first on a single.

The Aces added one run in the third on four walks and a fielder's choice, and one more in the fourth, after Billy Benn had walked and came all the way home as George Barnes fumbled a single by Furmston.

FIVE-RUN RALLY

Brentwood took advantage of loose play by the lumbermen in the fifth, and pushed across five runs. Les Wilson worked King for his third walk of the game. Slater singled. Turner walked to load the bases. Manager Lloyd Jones called time after King had thrown three straight balls to Sluggett, and signaled for his ace hurler Norm Martin. He got the count to 3 and 2 and forced the batter to hit a lazy fly to left. Wilson scored after the catch and the runners moved up.

Naval Golf Finals Billed Tomorrow

The naval golf tournament entered the semifinal round today with the defending champion, John Smith, still in the running but two other pre-tourney favorites sitting on the sidelines. Smith defeated A. Nelson in his quarter-final round while Lt. Cmdr. Amyott was being eliminated by R. Mylrea and Cmdr. M. Davidson was ousted by Lt. Cmdr. F. Frewer.

The 36-hole finals will take place tomorrow at Gorge Vale. Semifinalists are Smith and Mylrea in one bracket and Jamieson and Frewer in the other.

SENIOR C SOFTBALL

Warner's C.Y.O. will meet Canadian Scottish in a Senior C Softball League playoff game tonight at upper West Park at 6:30. On Monday night the same two teams will meet at Heywood Avenue.

Eagles Run Wild In Error-Ridden Senior Ball Tilt

Boosters lost a golden opportunity to move into a fourth-place tie with Pitzer & Nex in the senior baseball league last night when they booted away a 12 to 3 decision to Gar Taylor's Eagles. As a result, birdmen increased their hold on second place to one and a half games over Navy.

In all, the Hodges clan committed seven bobbles, making only half Eagles runs of the earned variety. Winners committed five miscues, however, but they were evenly spaced throughout the contest.

Rod Turner pitched a creditable game for losers, but went out in the seventh after giving up nine hits, taking 10 on strikes and passing the same number. Bernie Anderson limited Boosters to seven bingles.

Teams were tied, 2 to 2, going into the last of the fifth, but Eagles tallied six times and added a singleton in the sixth and another trio in the seventh, while holding Boosters to a lone tally in the eighth.

Short score follows:

Incogs, Ex-R.A.F. In Cricket Feature

University School Incogs get a chance to move into second place in the Victoria and District Cricket Association League on Saturday when they tangle with the second-place Ex-R.A.F. at Macdonald Park.

Both teams have lost two matches with the fliers leading the Incogs by the slim margin of an extra victory.

In other games on Saturday, Five C's will meet Albions at Naden and Navy will play the league-leading Oak Bay eleven at Windsor Park.

Ex-R.A.F. will practice at Macdonald Park tonight at 7. Oak Bay line-up follows: Sparks, Harrison, Sands, Gaveau, Higgs, Parkins, Thornton, Deane, J. Wright and Hicks.

Canadiens Blocked In Deals For New Players

MONTREAL (CP)—Montreal Canadiens, who failed to make the playoffs last season after finishing on top four years in a row, will be little changed for the 1948-49 campaign, general manager Frank Selke said Wednesday.

Selke told a press conference: "We have tried to make trades and buy players who would help us. The Canadian club offered Cleveland Barons of the American League $40,000 for Bob Solinger. We were turned down. Other moves were also tried without success. You can tell them (the public) we intend to start the season with 10 or possibly 12 of our regulars last season."

This would leave at least three of last year's club as trading bait or as possibilities for demotion to the minors to make room for new rookies who might click in pre-season training camps at St. Hyacinthe, Que., Montreal and Port Arthur, Ont.

Selke spiked an otherwise routine conference with an announcement that centremen Elmer Lach had come to terms and was expected soon to join Maurice (Rocket) Richard, Ken Reardon and Murph Chamberlain as signed and sealed regulars.

Selke at the same time discounted reports that veteran The Blake would be back playing with Habitués next season. He said Blake would be offered the job of coaching Buffalo Bisons in the A.H.L.

A's Sweep Twin Bill At Salem

Del Owens Hurls Three-Hit Shutout; Logue Wins Second

The A's gained another half game in their bid for the uppermost reaches of the Western International Baseball League last night as they took both ends of a doubleheader from the Salem Senators, 4 to 0 and 9 to 5.

Meanwhile, Tacoma Tigers remained in first place with a half-game bulge over Bremerton Blue-jackets by bouncing the Wenatchee Chiefs, 8 to 4. The Blue-jackets kept pace with a 4 to 2 win over Spokane.

Ted Norbert's hustling crew is now two and one-half games out of first place and two games behind the Bremerton nine. Vancouver dropped another to Yakima—the third straight—to fall five full games back of the Athletics.

"Del Owens held Salem to three hits in hurling the first game shutout. The A's won it early on first inning doubles by Vic Buccola and Archie Wilson, and added to their total with singletons in the second, sixth and seventh. Vic Buccola paced the hitters in the first tilt with two for three.

Oakland's Old Men In Another Win Over Seattle

The Oakland Oaks may be Casey Stengel's nine old men, as some observers have alleged, but wheel them up to the plate with bats in their hands, and they'll club your brains out.

The Coast League leaders moved three games in front with a repeat 8 to 6 win over Seattle last night.

It was another power display by Stengel's, let's say, well-seasoned troupe. Three homers by a trio of ex-major leaguers—Ernie Lombardi, Cookie Lavagetto and Nick Etten—led the 11-hit assault. Lavagetto also bagged two singles and drove in four runs.

Hillis Layne with four singles in four trips paced Seattle's attack. And adding to the old folks routine—Bob Johnson, one-time Athletics slugger, filled in at first base for Seattle and cracked a homer.

San Francisco's Seals, coming back up the ladder, made it three straight over San Diego to oust the Padres from second place with a 9 to 4 victory.

Los Angeles came up even with San Diego, a half game behind the Seals, by whipping Sacramento, 8 to 5.

Portland spurred for six tallies in the second and Duane Pillette breezed to a 9 to 3 decision over Hollywood.

Pennington's Goal Decides Soccer Final

WINNIPEG (CP)—Fort Rouge Legion defeated Winnipeg Westons 1 to 0 Wednesday night and qualified to meet Regina Nationals—in competition leading to the Dominion Football Association final, to be played in Toronto.

The Legion team took the first game of the best-of-three Manitoba series, 5 to 3. Breds won the next, 2 to 0. The Legionnaires took the clinching game on Midge Pennington's goal.

It was Owens' eighth win of the season as against seven defeats. Charlie Balassi and Russ Walseth led the club in its 13-hit attack, each picking up three blows. Wilson and Buccola got two for four with Jensen managing two for five. In addition Wilson smashed out his 20th three-bagger of the season in the second game.

Keith Simon tossed the victory for Bremerton as the Jackets came from behind to defeat Spokane, 4 to 2. Bob Hedington's homer with one aboard accounted for the Indian's two runs in the second.

Vancouver made it close in the ninth in losing to the Yakima Packers, 4 to 3. The Caps had the tying and winning runs on base but Garth Ford, who went the distance for the Packers, forced Len Tran to fly out and end the game. Yakima scored all their runs in the seventh inning. Hunk Anderson was charged with the loss.

A smart seven-inning relief chore by Vince Lazor aided Tacoma in tripping the Chiefs. Wenatchee led 4 to 3 in the fifth but the Tigers broke through for three runs and the ball game in the seventh. Lou McCollum got the defeat.

The A's wind up at Salem tonight moving on to Yakima tomorrow.

England Opens Strong In 4th Cricket Test

LEEDS, Yorkshire, Eng. (Reuter)—England, after winning the toss, put up their best opening partnership of the cricket test series against Australia when the fourth match began in fine weather here today. At the luncheon interval Len Hutton and Cyril Washbrook, the opening pair, were still undefeated with the total at 88. Hutton was then 46 and Washbrook 41.

Batting carefully, but confidently they had laid the foundation of what promised to be a big score on an easy-paced wicket.

Australia had already made certain of retaining the "Ashes," mythical symbol of the championship, by winning the first two matches and drawing the third in a best-of-five series. But victory in this match would give England a chance to tie.

Hutton had a lucky escape when the total stood at 50, giving Lindsay Hassett at backward short-leg a sharp chance of a catch off a late inswinger from Sam Loxton, medium-paced bowler.

None of the pace men, Ray Lindwall, Keith Miller or Bill Johnston, caused the batsmen much concern. Best in the Australian attack was Ernie Toshack, left-arm spinner, who kept both Hutton and Washbrook quiet by varying his pace and mixing spin with swing.

SLOW SCORING

The first hour of play produced only 34 runs and the 50 was hoisted after 79 minutes play.

More than 30,000 spectators watched the pre-lunch play. Jack Young and George Emmett were left out of England's chosen 13, while Australia brought in 19-year-old Neil Harvey and Ron Saggars to replace the injured Sidney Barnes and wicket-keeper Don Tallon, respectively.

The scorecard:

ENGLAND—FIRST INNINGS

L. Hutton, not out ..... 46
C. Washbrook, not out ..... 41
Extras ..... 1

Total for no wickets ..... 88

Junior Tennis Finalists

Doug Henley, right, receives congratulations from his opponent, Ted Horsey, after winning the under-18 singles title in the finals of the Junior Centre tennis tournament at the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club yesterday. Scores were 6-2, 6-1.

Final of the girls' under 18 I. Glenday, 5-7, 6-2, 6-0. In the boys under 18 doubles Cromie and Glenday took the honors from L. Lopez and I. Kingham, 8-10, 8-6, 6-4.

Miss Henley shared in her second title as she teamed with W. Trump to lift the girls under 18 doubles from D. Brade and Ann Walker, 6-4, 1-6, 10-8. Finals marked the conclusion of a successful tournament which saw the youngsters display some first-class tennis.

Royal Roads Course For 34 Sea Cadets Announced By Navy

A special 14-day course of instruction for 34 members of the Royal Canadian Sea Cadets will be held at H.M.C.S. Royal Roads, starting Aug. 1, it was announced by Naval Headquarters.

Selected on a per capita basis by local committees of the Navy League of Canada, the cadets will be representative of the entire Dominion. Averaging between 16½ and 17½ years of age, they will undergo training at the Canadian Services College which will fit them as petty officer instructors in their own corps.

Sailing, boating, swimming, physical training and other practical instruction will be included in the course.

Leslie Stevens, 1447 Taunton Street, was selected by the Navy League here to represent Victoria at the course.

Membership Going Up At Yacht Club

Representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and City Council will confer today with Dominion Fisheries Minister R. W. Mayhew on the harbor development program, it was announced today. The meeting opened at 4.

Movies Scheduled At Park Tonight

Providing the weatherman cooperates, the Victoria Film Council will present the first of a regular Thursday series of movies at the new Beacon Hill Park Memorial Pavilion this evening at 9.15.

A program of interesting variety films has been lined up. Titles are: "Niagara Frontier," "Wind From the West," a fantasy for the children, "Ukrainian Dance," "Singing Stars of Tomorrow," and "The More We Get Together," a community singing reel.

The latest National Film Board newsreel will also be shown.

Outlaw Strikes, Pattullo Urges

Former Liberal Premier T. D. Pattullo, in a statement today, suggests that the forthcoming national Liberal convention at Ottawa recommend the outlawing of strikes.

"Recently we have witnessed the spectacle of a threatened railway strike," his statement read: "Business lost to Canada through this threat must have run into millions of dollars, not to mention the disconcertance and discontent which it caused."

"Why should services to the public necessarily be placed in jeopardy from time to time through the actions of militant minorities?"

"Today our adjustments are piecemeal. We should approach the problem with a view to reaching finality in equality of treatment for all."

"There is no such thing as an inherent right to strike, but there is an inherent obligation not to."

"The public should insist that their government representatives shall enact legislation to outlaw all strikes and make compulsory the settlement of disputes by arbitration."

Vancouver Shipyard To Repair Cardena

The B.C. Marine Co., Vancouver, has been awarded the contract for repairs to the Union Steamship Company steamer Cardena which went ashore last week on Lasqueti Island, it was learned today.

Two Victoria shipyards, Yarrow's Ltd. and Victoria Machinery Depot, submitted bids to repair the passenger vessel. Considerable damage was done to her bottom when she was jammed between two reefs.

Playground Groups Plan Field Day At Athletic Park

All the fun and games enjoyed by Victoria children throughout the summer will be climaxed on Aug. 18 with a giant field day at Royal Athletic Park, which will conclude the playground program for the year, Gordon Hartley, chief supervisor announced Wednesday.

Drawings, paintings and handicraft work turned out by the youngsters during regular playground programs will be on display. There will be races, boxing finals, tumbling and acrobatics, folk dancing and novelty events.

A member of the Athletics professional baseball team will act as master of ceremonies, Mr. Hartley reports.

Contestants from four parks, Victoria West, Central, Hollywood and Beacon Hill will begin eliminations for the boxing finals Friday at Central Park at 3.30 p.m. in classes ranging from 50 to 150 pounds. Referee will be Pete Worthington, one of the leading boxers at the University of British Columbia.

VEHICLE PARADE

Special event at city playgrounds this week will be a decorated vehicle parade at 2 p.m. Friday. Everything from bicycles, motor cars, wagons to roller skates will be eligible.

At Oak Bay, the featured event of the week will be a sand castle competition. Willows Park group are staging their contest today, while Windsor Park children will mould their sandy structures Friday.

Kenney Will Attend Idaho Meeting On Big Hydro Project

Lands Minister E. T. Kenney will attend the meeting of the International Joint Commission at Bonners Ferry, Idaho, on July 27, when plans for construction of a $100,000,000 hydro dam on the Kootenay River will be discussed.

It was announced previously that Deputy Lands Minister George Melrose would be the province's representative at the meeting.

The dam, to be built near Libby, Montana, would be about 400 feet high and would flood the river back as far as Wardner, B.C. About 13,000 acres of land on the B.C. side of the boundary would be covered.

The project when completed will develop more than 1,000,000 horsepower and will supply power throughout the Pacific northwest.

More Deaths By Drowning In B.C. Than In Any Other Province

There are more deaths by drowning in B.C. than in any other province, provincial health department officials said today in a plea that care be taken at the seaside and at lakes this summer.

In 1946 129 persons drowned. Boating accidents took six lives; five people died when they suffered attacks of illness while swimming; 14 victims were intoxicated; 17 drowned in general swimming accidents.

"Are you going to drown this summer?" they ask in their plea. "A strange inquiry, perhaps, but possibly well worth the asking as more than 100 British Columbians, who probably had no intention of drowning, did so last year."

Learn to swim, of course, is the first advice given. And until you can, don't take chances in or near the water.

Also do not go swimming after a heavy meal, officials advise. Heart failure through over-exertion usually is the result rather than stomach cramps.

Another piece of advice is that through artificial respiration, a near-drowning victim can be revived even though he has been submerged for as long as 30 minutes. Cases where persons have been saved after four and eight hours of continuous artificial respiration are not unknown.

Steel Price, Supply Problems In U.S. To Be Reflected In Canada

By Canadian Press

Recent steel developments in the United States will bring complexities to the steel price situation in Canada, and possibly also to supply.

Canada itself produces about 3,000,000 ingot-tons a year, but imports another 1,000,000 ingot-tons, largely in items not produced here, an present average increase in the United States of $9.34 a ton will be felt in the Canadian imports.

Canada still has price ceilings, recently increased, on various products, including pig iron, ingots, slabs, billets, plates, skelp, bars, rods and sheet; but ceilings have been removed from all forms of alloy, rails, wire, nails and heavy structural.

The United States industry also recently abandoned the system under which prices were standardized within certain areas; and now, the farther away a point is, the more freight it will have to pay.

Some of the more distant U.S. points are reported considering giving up shipping to Canada, on the ground that Canadian needs should be supplied from places nearer the border.

Steel supply remains critical the world over and many projects being delayed in Canada, the United States and Britain because of it, but so far United States suppliers have in the main been taking care of their Canadian commitments.

The Canadian industry is producing at virtual capacity, double prewar.

Call Conference On Arena Appointments

Appointment of two arena commissioners will be discussed at a conference to be held at 2.30 Friday afternoon, Mayor Percy George announced today.

The appointments have been made necessary by the expiration of the one-year terms of Mr. Fletcher and Dr. Poyntz.

City Council was advised Monday that the one-year terms of Mr. Fletcher and Dr. Poyntz had expired June 3 and the councillors asked the mayor to take the new appointments under consideration.

The three commissioners who still hold office until June 3, 1949, are John Baxter, William Bridge-wood and Col. B. Russell Ker.

Commission members cannot be selected from the City Council but must be ratepayers or residents in Victoria. Their appointments are made by the City Council.

Aged Indian Freed; 11 Years In Prison

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Paddy Duncan, 84-year-old Yukon Indian, who served 11 years on a murder conviction, is out the "outside" today.

Two weeks ago he refused to accept his parole because the terms of the ticket barred him from returning to his home.

His release is still provisional, and Duncan won't consider himself really free until he gets an official ruling on the point from the Secretary of State's department in Ottawa.

Termed a model prisoner by federal prison officials, Duncan completed his life imprisonment stint imposed for the death of another Indian in 1937. He had first been sentenced to hang.

He has continued to insist that he is innocent.

The aged Indian will return to prison unless he can spend his remaining days in the land he loves.

V.D. On Decline Here

Venereal disease is on the decline in British Columbia.

Quarterly report of the Department of Health and Welfare says 1,071 new cases listed from April to June represents a 28.6 per cent drop over a total of 1,500 for the corresponding 1947 quarter.

Similarly, comparison of the January-to-June totals for both years indicates a 21.1 per cent drop.

The second-quarter total also represents a decrease of 23.3 per cent from the total of 1,396 newly-reported cases for the first quarter of the year.

New syphilis cases, totaling 227, are 52 per cent less than 473 listed in the April-to-June quarter of 1947. New cases of gonorrhoea are 15.3 per cent less.

Saanich Ratepayers Urged To Endorse Water, Road By-laws

At a meeting in the Women's Institute Hall Wednesday night, Reeve E. C. Warren of Saanich pictured the benefits of the proposed $355,000 water distribution system for Brentwood and district.

He urged ratepayers to cast their ballots Saturday for the money by-law, and also for the $495,000 road by-law for the whole of Saanich.

A total of 290 homes and 1,200 persons would be served by the water system, he said. He predicted the distribution system would make possible bigger yields from farmlands and provide water to combat fire if the by-law were passed.

Cost to the average property owner, he said, would be about 80 cents a week. Should the by-law pass, he said, those homeowners living along the route of the 12-inch main would be able to get their new water service within a few days.

Both Saanich Council and Saanich Board of Trade had approved the scheme, Reeve Warren said.

The reeve also outlined the road program to be voted on the same day from 8 in the morning until 8 at night.

At meetings tonight at Tolmie School at 8 and the Women's Institute Hall at Royal Oak Reeve Warren and H. D. Dawson, municipal engineer, will speak on the road by-law.

Veterans To Honor Admiral Mainguy

An "Admiral Mainguy Night" is being shaped by the Esquimalt Branch of the Canadian Legion in honor of Rear Admiral E. R. Mainguy, Flag Officer, Pacific Coast, for his unceasing interest in service personnel. The admiral leaves in September for his new post in Halifax. Committee to arrange the night is composed of N. O. Carpenter, J. E. Carey and T. G. Sewell.

Disease Threat Still In B.C. Flood Areas

The "dyke" against disease in flood-ravaged areas of the province must be watched closely for months, the provincial health department reports.

"Tense moments are not over yet," officials warn.

Sanitary standards were lowered to a primitive level, they explain, and there was widespread distribution of disease-producing organisms.

"As long as stop-gap living quarters and makeshift methods of water supply and sewage disposal exist, hazards will be there," officials said.

There are more than 100 varieties of gastro-intestinal infections spread through poor sanitation alone.

Inquest Tomorrow Into Fire Death

Inquest into circumstances surrounding the death of Edward J. Martin, 75-year-old blind pensioner, who died in a fire which gutted his cabin at 845 Esquimalt Road Wednesday afternoon, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 at Sands Mortuary Ltd.

Building Permits Total $40,212

Permits for $40,212 worth of major construction and alterations were issued by the city building inspector's office this morning and Wednesday afternoon.

A permit for construction of a $6,000, four-room house for A. A. Allen at 932 Wilmer Street, and one for $3,612 repairs to the Salvation Army building at 532 Johnson Street were issued today.

Wednesday afternoon, permits issued included those for a $9,800 annex to Oaklands School, on Ryan Street; a five-room, $5,800 house for George A. Wilkinson at 1040 Bank Street; a six-room, $7,500 house at 3110 Balfour Street for J. McGowan, and a five-room $7,500 house at 3152 Quadra Street for P. Graves.

Fishermen Being Offered $610 For One Ton Of Tuna

There's big money in tuna fishing this year if it's your luck to make a few good catches.

Fishing companies are offering as high as $610 for a ton of albacore tuna and it is probable this figure will go even higher. Last year top prices paid tuna fishermen averaged around $600.

The high prices paid for tuna have spurred many more fishermen to try their luck off the west coast of Vancouver Island, where tuna runs are reported to be fairly good.

To date approximately eight tons of tuna have been unloaded in Victoria, mainly by local fishermen. More boats are expected to arrive today with good catches. The average fish weighs 12 pounds.

Protest Sales Tax

Veterans of the Esquimalt Branch of the Canadian Legion, meeting Wednesday night, unanimously protested the imposition of the sales tax. They saw it as a hardship for war veterans, old-age and burnt-out pensioners and low and middle-class wage earners.

area requested that they not be debarred from direct connection by bus with the section North of Oak Bay Avenue. The proposed changes, it was pointed out, would oblige residents walking to Central Avenue or taking the Gonzales loop.

The other petition signed by 257 residents of Windsor Road area strongly protested the discontinuance of the ten minute service in that area. They assumed it would be continued when the B.C. Electric got the franchise.

Councillor P. A. Gibbs, chairman of the transport committee, said the transportation service was still in the experimental stage. He said the B.C. Electric Co. should be given a chance to solve what he described as a "very difficult problem."

"People don't seem to realize what a problem the company has to cope with," commented Councillor J. V. Johnson. "You can't solve the problem in a day."

Reeve R. A. Wootton expressed the hope that the people would be patient. "We are giving serious attention to this problem," he said. "The company, however, has to be given a chance to experiment."

The matter was tabled for further consideration. With regard to the petition complaining about bus noise and vibration, Councillor P. A. Moir expressed the opinion that it was chiefly noise which bothered residents.

"Some of those buses are pretty noisy," said the councillor. "I believe many people mistake it for vibration."

Oak Bay To Unveil Memorial Nov. 11

Oak Bay's war memorial now being erected in a section of Uplands Park area, will be unveiled on Nov. 11, it was announced at an Oak Bay Council meeting Wednesday. The memorial is being erected one-half a mile inside the Beach Drive Uplands gates on the west or "inshore side" of Beach Drive.

U.S., Russia Competing For Rubber Supply

LONDON (AP)—The financial edition of the London News Chronicle said today the United States and Russia are actively competing for the world's supply of rubber. The effect has been, he wrote, to send up the price over the last three months from one shilling to one shilling 3½ pence (20 cents to just over 25 cents) a pound.

Raps People Who Complain Children Noisy In Parks

"It is a shame to see people make a complaint of this kind," said Councillor W. C. Ellis with reference to a letter which protested against erection of children's swings and slides in the park situated at the corner of Hampshire and Lafayette Streets.

The complainant, in a letter to Oak Bay council, wrote of terrible noise made by not only children but "by their dogs which they tied to the swings."

"All the people on Lafayette Street are getting on in years and in not the best of health, with no children, and we all think it was a very unjust thing to us all," read the letter. "We have to put up with this intolerable noise Sundays and week-days."

Councillor Ellis, chairman of the parks committee, pointed out that he had visited the park and found that the children complained of were between the ages of six and eight years old.

"There's nothing nicer than children's voices," said the councillor. "They are only little kids."

Councillor P. A. Moir and others felt that those who complained of noise made by children appeared to forget that at one time they were also children. Reeve R. A. Wootton suggested a letter be sent to the complainant informing her that the area was a public park and children's playground and would remain so. All councillors approved the action.

man Robert C. Stanley said in commenting on the price change. This had been expensive and had pushed prices upward, he added.

Price Of Nickel Increased 40c

NEW YORK (AP)—The International Nickel Company announced that from today its United States contract price for electrolytic nickel from its Ontario refinery was increased to 40 cents a pound.

Simultaneously the parent Canadian company, the International Nickel Company of Canada Ltd., announced similar increases on refined nickel in Canada and the United Kingdom.

Increased metal requirements of the world since the prewar period placed such a 'drain' on the ore reserves of base metal producers that they were forced to mine lower grade ore, chair-

Gary Cooper May Act In Movie As Andrew Jackson

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Gary Cooper as Andrew Jackson.

That intriguing casting may well be seen on the screens in the future. The lanky, Montanan has admitted he is interested in portraying the colorful life of the seventh President of the United States.

HOW TO MAKE MONEY

Sonny Tufts and Dennis O'Keefe will join forces on "Draw Sabres," which is described as "along the 'Fort Apache' lines, but with more appeal." Both will help produce the independent film, since they have discovered that's the way to make money in Hollywood these days. The actor who is making about the top profit in town—this may surprise you—is Randolph Scott, because he participates in the profits of his films.

June Allyson sadly relates that husband Dick Powell is shopping for another boat. June, who cares not for any form of air or sea travel, says the only bright note is that he is seeking a power cruiser. "It gets you there twice as fast and you're only half as sick," she remarks.

Professional football may get a jolt from "Interference." It will show the game as a big business, and no punches will be pulled.

FRANK ANSWER

Cary Grant had a frank answer when I asked him why he didn't produce his own pictures. Said he: "I'm not mentally equipped for it."

M-G-M censor Al Block was smoking while sitting on a bed on the "Little Women" set. "I'm breaking one of my new rules," he commented. No longer will smoking in bed be permitted in M-G-M pictures, since many people are killed every year because of bed fires. Which shows you how careful film makers have to be.

Here comes the inevitable item—the Humphrey Bogarts are adding a nursery wing to their house.

'Kid From Brooklyn' Stars Danny Kaye

The Goldwyn girls, 1946 vintage, make their debut in Samuel Goldwyn's new technicolor comedy with music, "The Kid From Brooklyn," now at the York Theatre. It stars Danny Kaye. The Goldwyn girls of past years have been required to do nothing but be themselves, which has been sufficient to satisfy anybody. The girls do numbers by Jule Styne and Sammy Cahn—"The Sunflower Dairy Song," a nonsense novelty, and "Welcome Home," in which they serenade the pugilistic hero, Danny. Some of the 1946 class were singing professionally before they became Goldwyn girls.

Guerrilla Exploits Told In Rio Film

Harry Carey and Paul Kelly will appear as co-stars on the screen of the Rio Theatre today in "China's Little Devils," the thrilling Monogram picture which deals with the exploits of a juvenile guerrilla band operating behind the Japanese lines during the war. "Ducky" Louie, a 13-year-old Chinese boy, makes his acting debut in the principal supporting role, and the cast also includes Ralph Lewis, Philip Ahn, Jimmy Dodd, Ralph Linn, H. T. Tsiang and large numbers of Chinese. Monta Bell directed for producer Grant Withers, and the original screenplay by Sam Ornitz was based on a story idea by David Diamont.

PLAZA THEATRE

The scarcity of Chinese actors in Hollywood put an aviation research engineer in greasepaint in the United Artists film, "Intrigue," now at the Plaza Theatre, starring George Raft, June Havoc and Helena Carter.

Because the picture has a Shanghai background, it recruited the services of practically every available Chinese actor in the film capital. When director Edwin L. Marin found himself at the end of the list, he told his troubles to everyone on the set, including Philip Ahn, Hollywood's only Korean actor, who was cast in the most important Chinese role in the picture.

At breakfast the next morning, Philip mentioned it to his brother, Philson Ahn, a research engineer for Howard Hughes. Then it dawned on him that his engineer-brother could be the solution to the problem.

Philson was dragged down to the studio where Marin hired him immediately, put him through make-up and wardrobe and had him acting on the set before the engineer knew what had happened to him.

DOMINION—"Latin Quarter," starring Derrick de Marney.

OAK BAY—Jeanne Crain in "You Were Meant for Me."

ODEON—Rita Hayworth in "The Lady From Shanghai."

PLAZA—"Intrigue," starring George Raft and June Havoc.

RIO—"China's Little Devils," starring Harry Carey and Paul Kelly.

ROYAL—"Green Grass of Wyoming," starring Peggy Cummins and Charles Coburn.

YORK INTERNATIONAL—Danny Kaye in "The Kid From Brooklyn."

'Rock-A-Bye Baby' Brought Good News

What with being busy dancing on the set of "You Were Meant for Me," the new Twentieth Century-Fox hit opening today at the Oak Bay Theatre, Dan Dailey didn't have the opportunity of pacing the hospital corridor in anticipation of the arrival of his first child. But Dan received the news in a manner that made it a memorable occasion.

Dan had spent the entire previous night at the hospital with his wife in a long vigil, but had to report to the set in the morning. He went through his paces before the cameras like the veteran trouper that he is. When, for one scene, he lifted his baton to conduct the orchestra in "It Had To Be You," Director Lloyd Bacon signalled behind his back, and the band broke into "Rock-a-Bye Baby." Dan did a double-take, dropped his baton, and ran! The baby, an 8 lb. 2 oz. boy, was named James Dailey III.

'If Winter Comes' Opens At Atlas

For acting at its very best, you will have to turn to "If Winter Comes," M-G-M's richly effective adaptation of A. S. M. Hutchinson's novel of a man whose code of honor forces him to take the blame for another man's misconduct—even though it means villification at the hands of his wife, employer and neighbors.

Four of the year's outstanding performances are compressed in this gripping picture, which is being shown at the Atlas Theatre today. Deborah Kerr, the English actress, who swept into overnight U.S. popularity as the result of her work opposite Clark Gable in "The Hucksters," has an even meatier role as the woman whose fine sensibilities prevent her from renouncing an antipathetic husband for an idealistic writer.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Scramble some eggs, mix with $50,000, season with the screen's scream team, Abbott and Costello, add a dash of spice with statuesque Cathy Downs, use tough Joseph Calleia to mix things up—and you've got the season's fun-free-for-all, Eagle Lion's "The Noose Hangs High," which is now showing at the Capitol Theatre.

ODEON THEATRE

A set representing a maze of mirrors was constructed at Columbia studio for part of an amusement park "crazy house" sequence for "The Lady From Shanghai," starring Rita Hayworth and Orson Welles at the Odeon Theatre. Eighty plate-glass mirrors and 24 distorting mirrors, giving actors 104 views of themselves, made possible some of the weird camera effects seen in the film.

ROYAL THEATRE

Charles Coburn celebrated a birthday recently by driving a fast, trotting horse around a Lancaster, Ohio, track, bringing his bicycle-wheel sulky around the mile in 2:10 for a scene in "Green Grass of Wyoming," 20th Century-Fox's technicolor filmization of the Mary O'Hara best-seller. In the film, currently at the Royal Theatre, Coburn shares starring honors with Peggy Cummins and Robert Arthur.

Heat, Flames Thwart Heroic Work To Save Man From Fire

Driven back by flames and heat, heroic efforts of two persons to save Edward John Martin, 75-year-old blind pensioner, from death by fire Wednesday afternoon in Esquimalt were thwarted.

He perished in bed when fire gutted his unit of a four-cabin frame building at 845 Viewfield Road.

Mr. Martin had only partial sight from one eye. He was totally blind in the other.

Investigations were proceeding today to determine the cause of the fire, which started in the kitchen.

An inquest, presided over by Dr. E. C. Hart, will be held this week at Sands Mortuary Ltd.

H. G. Painter, working at J. E. Painter & Sons fuel yards, was first to discover the fire. He shouted to his brother, A. H. Painter, to call the fire department and ran over to see if the tenant was in. His shouts were not answered.

When Mr. Painter pushed the door open flames leapt out at him to prevent entry.

Richard Bradshaw, 826 Old Esquimalt Road, who suffered a scorched arm, was also prevented from entering the cabin due to heat and flames.

In the belief after these efforts that Mr. Martin had left the premises, a hose was brought into play to wet the building until the Esquimalt Fire Department arrived.

Fire-fighting crew was made up of Chief Gilbert Stancombe, Fire Capt. J. Owens, fireman George Connors and Const. Arthur Burton.

After the department had put the blaze out the aged pensioner was found dead in bed, the blankets pulled up over his face. Mr. Martin was born on the Island of Jersey. He came to B.C. in 1907. Relatives, if any, are unknown.

Dr. John Dalton pronounced life extinct after a naval pull-motor crew had worked on Mr. Martin without success for some time.

Another old-age pensioner, Albert Liddiari, in the cabin next door, was helped out with his belongings by Mr. Bradshaw. Smoke and water damage was done to his cabin and the one occupied by Robert Bob.

Campbell Hopeful Of Beating Blindness

LONDON (AP)—Sir Malcolm Campbell, former land and water speed king, will know Monday whether he has overcome the blindness that threatened to keep him from piloting his "Bluebird" to new speedboat records.

The 63-year-old driver underwent an operation in St. Mary's Hospital a month ago. A surgeon will tell him Monday whether his sight has improved enough for him to take the wheel of his jet-propelled craft.

Sir Malcolm planned two years ago to attempt to better 200 miles an hour on water. Glaucoma, a high pressure of fluid on the eyeball, ruined the sight of his left eye and the operation was performed in an attempt to save his right eye.

Now he can see a small clock across the living-room. He is convinced that with the luck that has always been his he will beat blindness.

Bobby Locke Will Play At Montreal

MONTREAL (CP)—Bobby Locke, dazzling South African shotmaker and 1947 Canadian Open champion, will play in an exhibition golf match on the Isle-mere course here Aug. 28, it was announced yesterday.

President J. H. Van Sickle of the Islemere Club said Locke and a partner would play against local professionals Stan Horne of Islemere and Jules Huot of Laval-Sur-Le Lac.

Locke's partner was not yet known, but it was learned that Frank Stenahan of Toledo, O., recently crowned Canadian amateur champion for the second straight year, would be invited.

Mills Discovers New Secret Punch

BETCHWORTH, Surrey, Eng. (AP)—Britain's Freddie Mills says he has a new secret punch which will stop light heavyweight champion Gus Lesnevich in their title bout in London Monday night.

Mills, 29-year-old British and European 175-pound champion, did not show this new weapon at his workout today and says he hasn't employed it on sparring partners.

"If I showed it, it would no longer be secret," he said. "I've been working on it in my bedroom. It'll be ready for Gus Monday night."

Youthful Ferland Whips Castilloux

MONTREAL (CP)—Gaby Ferland, promising young Montreal welterweight, battered veteran Dave Castilloux for eight rounds Wednesday to win a unanimous decision in the main bout of an outdoor boxing card at the Exchange Stadium. Ferland scaled 145, to 137½ for Castilloux.

The loss probably meant the end of a long ring career for the 34-year-old Castilloux, former Canadian featherweight, lightweight and welterweight champion who held all three titles at the same time.
